THE DANMARK HOTEL JUST GETTING BETTER AND BETTER!

At the end of Soi Whitehouse, just off Jomtien Beach Road - Telephone 033 005 211

HOTEL DANMARK

(spelt the Danish way!)

Last year was quite a year for Hotel Danmark. Our cover story for June 2018.

The hotel has gone from strength to strength and is no longer just a hidden treasure but now a well known venue for golf clubs and The Danish Club who hold their once monthly meetings there.

In fact whilst 2018 proved for many to be a disappointing low season and an even more worrying a slow start to the high season, Hotel Danmark's business has just been getting better and better.

This is in no small part down to Kent and his team who have kept the now famous 190 baht all you can eat breakfast, and daily specials of 220 baht up to the high standards that you would expect from a food and beverage professional. Also they have looked to where improvements could still be made and opened up a whole new dining area which is especially good for the breakfast buffet allowing customers easier access to the food and releasing yet more space for more seating.

As you can see there is now ample room for large groups to meet in comfort and with plenty of fans throughout the entire dining area inside and out you will always feel comfortable eating and meeting there.

I personally love the breakfast buffet at Hotel Danmark although I usually wait until the weekend as there is so much to tempt me I can sometimes need a "mini siesta" after! Highlights for me are the eggs served to order and amazing bacon (of course) cooked to perfection. I am also a lover of cheese so to find a plentiful supply of Danish blue amongst the cold cuts is a rare treat. Sausage, potatoes and a Thai option are always available as are fruits, cereals and desserts. Various tea options as well as fresh brewed coffee are available for as many refills as you can manage - and I can manage quite a few ! Also the bread is great - they even have bake their own. Then if you miss chocolate spread or Peanut Butter as it is no longer something you keep yourself at home, don't worry you can treat yourself to these when you go to Hotel Danmark.

Hotel Danmark is on Soi White House, off Jomtien beach road (near soi 7)

The TFI Electric Motorcycle Presentation

TFI members visited Nongprue City Hall to hand over a mobility scooter to K Boonsong, a Thai man who lost both his legs in an accident a few years ago.

K Gio from Take Care Kids helped find this worthy recipient for the scooter, and also liaised with Amy from Nongprue Social Services. K Mai Chaianit the Mayor of Nongprue took time out of his busy schedule to oversee the presentation of the new Mobility Scooter to K Boonsong and thanked TFI for their generosity and for thinking about Thai people

After a few minutes of familiarising himself with the scooter K Boonsong was soon able to maneuver it with ease and humbly thanked all present giving everyone a tear jerking rendition of a traditional Thai song. The advantages of using an electric motorcycle are

- It is very green, reducing both air pollution and noise pollution
- Very economical in that the average charge is only 4 baht per 60-80 kilometre.
- Extremely easy to use, you just plug in the key and then twist the throttle

Recommended series 'The Wire'.

This realistic police drama set in Baltimore Maryland, follows the same characters and storyline from season to season, while illustrating the relationship of law enforcement to the drug trade, seaport, city government, Schools and the media. The writer David Simon used his own experiences having been a reporter for The Baltimore Sun, and collaborated with Ed Burns who served for 20 years in the Baltimore Police Department. Simon shows us how the police are more motivated by outsmarting the criminals whilst the criminals are not just motivated by profit but also trapped by their circumstances. More of an Angry show, prepared to kill off main characters and show us how organizations are dysfunctional than seek audience gratification. This bleak but realistic approach gave the show only average ratings on release but is now considered one of the greatest TV shows of all time. It was decided to cast little known actors at the time such as Dominic West, Michael K. Williams and Idris Elba alongside some real Baltimore and Maryland figures. There are a total of 60 episodes spread over five seasons.

Project Blue Book.

St. Andrews
International School
Green Valley

St Andrews bring home the cup and make us proud at BISP Soccer 7s

The BISP Soccer 7s in Phuket is the biggest football tournament in Asia with over 150 teams flying in to play. St Andrews International School Green Valley has had some fantastic results in this competition over the years and the experience has developed the players immensely but they have never managed to bring the coveted tournament cup home... yet!

This year the Green Valley Panthers elected to enter 5 teams including the Under 9 Girls. The Under 9 competition looked on paper to be an uphill task considering the size of the schools they would have to face. It was clear though as soon as they kicked off their first game against Dulwich College Suzhou, that these Panthers were ready to take on the best.

Most of the girls had been training at United Football (based at St Andrews) since they were 4 years old and their understanding and knowledge of the game showed instantly. They went 2-0 up and cruised to victory. After that they never looked back! They finished top of their group, a phenomenal achievement as it put them straight into the semi-final against the hosts. In this game the devastating speed of Tifenn, Stamp and Mimi going forward and Yubin and team Captain Leela made sure that chances were few and far between for the opposition. They kept up their trademark one touch passing and it was only a matter of time before they broke the deadlock and defended their lead valiantly, to be placed in the finals.

The final could not have started worse! The Panthers were 2-0 down within minutes the girls resolve was seriously tested, would they fall apart or would they show the fight to get back into the game? They answered the question in no time. Stamp fired low past the keeper before Tifenn found a glorious equaliser. At 2-2 the momentum swung, the Panthers way and Leela set up Stamp, fooling the goalkeeper and following with a left foot strike giving the girls the hard fought lead. Panthers' keeper Matilda made a fabulous save before the final whistle that sparked jubilant scenes as the girls celebrated their victory to ensure they were bringing the trophy to Green Valley.

It wasn't only the Under 9s that shone in the competition; the Under 15 boys played some sublime football with attacks building all the way from the back with Ben and Clayton standing out and terrorising opposition players. They comfortably qualified from the group stage and faced The Sultan School, Oman where they found themselves a goal down but fought back until with the last kick of normal time Clayton tapped home to force the dreaded penalty shootout. A perfect round of penalties from the Panthers and two breathtaking saves from Keng put them into the semi-finals.

The semi-final was played against the British International School Phuket's Cruzeiro Academy team who went on to win the competition. Team GV made them fight hard and had them rattled but they just edged the Panthers out. However the team didn't go home empty handed as an ice cold finish from Ben gave them the bronze.

The success did not stop there as the Senior Girls bounced back from the disappointment of dropping out of the cup after some unfortunate results to fight their way to the final of the plate competition. A nail biting final could not be settled in normal time so penalties were needed. Sam the goalkeeper gathered a huge cheer as she saved the first penalty. Jade dispatched hers, Shantel's was saved but the opposition striker clipped hers onto the post. This left Eva the long walk to the spot to give the Panthers the win making sure they had to make yet more suitcase space for trophies!

The Under 13 boys played well and beat Alice Smith School, Malaysia, Charlie scoring what had to be the goal of the tournament from his own half! Unfortunately, they were eliminated in the plate stage as the senior boys competition is notoriously hard and despite the boys playing with heart, injuries made the difference.

However, it was a fantastic weekend for the whole St Andrews International School Green Valley community with players, coaches and parents all coming together to create a wonderful team atmosphere and amazing results!

GAME RELEASES

Resident Evil 2 remake.

Inspired by the success of the first Resident Evil remake Capcom have now revamped Resident Evil 2. I was impressed by the trailer at last year's Entertainment Expo where it won the best in show award. FYI this is a Zombie Survival Horror game with combat, Puzzles along with investigations into the goings on of the Umbrella corporation. If you were the owner of a Play station One back in 1998 you may remember the original, well now by using the Resident Evil 7 game engine we have not just an updated look but also a new camera system to help scare us all over again. This version can also run in 4K at 60fps and it is being released on all Platforms a great start to the year.

The collaboration between Disney and Square Enix makers of the Final Fantasy series continues with the third edition of this action role playing game. Sora the original hero from the first game continues adventuring with his side kicks Donald Duck, Goofy, King Mickey and Kairi. Characters from the Disney hit Frozen are also featured along with Toy Story, Hercules and I even spotted Wreck-it Ralph. The game play is similar to the previous releases with real time hack and slash. Fun for the younger gamer to explore the Disney world's from the films and interact with their characters.

Ace Combat 7: Skies Unknown.

Prepare for more Ariel dog fighting, in the latest release of this military flight sim series. Between missions you are treated to a Top Gun inspired story line. Probably more arcade style in game play then a hard core realistic flight sim, this one is out for the consoles only. However Included in this release are some VR missions for those with a PSVR setup, get an idea of what it's like to pilot a fighter Jet, without the G force and passing out. Parachute not included.

New Year's Resolution, Start Growing Veggies!

As we prepare for the coming year we should take a look at the things that will improve our lives in the year to come. In order to have a happy and healthy life, we must eat healthy foods. That means lots of fresh vegetables. You can buy vegetables at the supermarket, but they simply do not compare to the vegetables you grow yourself.

Ask any chef or lover of good food and they will tell you, there is satisfaction in eating foods that you have grown. When you plant a seed and nurture it with earth, water, and sunlight, there is a sense of accomplishment when the plant begins to grow. You give to the plant the nutrition it needs and in return, it gives to you the nutrition you need. None of the vitamins, minerals, or flavors are destroyed in processing, shipping and preserving the food.

You may be a vegan or a meat eater and still enjoy the main course that is bursting with flavor. It is not about what the main course is, it is about the flavor and seasoning. While you are growing your own veggies in the year to come, you can easily put in a fresh herb garden. Go to our website pattayatradet.com and on the Expat Living, Home and Garden page you will find an article with "Tips for your herb garden" to help you start.

The best vegetables you can plant are those that are used in many different ways and that can be cooked with various herbs and seasonings to make an entirely new dish. Here are some examples of some of our favorites:

Butternut Squash

Loaded with Vitamin C, Potassium, Vitamin B and more, butternut squash is a great veggie for any occasion. Enjoy it baked, cubed and roasted, in soups and fried with butter and onions. Butternut squash is a superfood. It is a favorite fall and winter food. Seasoning favorites for this food include thyme, rosemary, parsley, and black pepper.

Eggplant

Eggplant is a well known main dish. Eggplant Parmesan is a favorite in kitchens everywhere. This plant is grown all across the globe. It is low in calories, high in fiber, and sets a beautiful table. Try it baked with cheese, fried, or roasted with olive oil and lemon. Season eggplant with your Italian favorites including, garlic, oregano, basil, thyme, sea salt, and cracked pepper.

Tomatoes

No garden is complete without tomatoes. Tomatoes are enjoyed fresh, or made into sauces, soups, and sauteed. Tomatoes produce a large crop and are eaten as fast as they grow. There are few kitchens without a variety of tomato dishes.

Other veggies to incorporate into your garden are Kale, Spinach, zucchini, pumpkin, beans, lettuce, and cabbage. Ask your seed provider for help with the varieties that grow best in your climate. You will be glad you did. So will everyone who visits your kitchen.

There is no better way to kick off your new year, than with good food, good friends, and great recipes.

EXCITING DEVELOPMENTS FROM UNDER THE ROOF CLUB AS ALL THE HARD WORK AND DONATIONS ARE BEGINNING TO PAY OFF

THE 12 BEST MUSEUMS TO VISIT IN 2019

Musée d'Orsay Paris

Following on from our article last month recommending a visit to the museums available mostly for free entrance in the UK to anyone heading back for the festive season. So this month we thought we would check the 25 best museums throughout the world as voted on by Trip Advisors users. How many have you been to and which might you try to visit this coming year?

No 1 Musée d'Orsay Paris

Certainly no argument from me at the number one slot. This museum has everything. A beautiful location on the banks of the Seine in Paris. A wonderful, most unusual building being a converted railway station that lends itself beautifully to showing fine works of art with its high vaulted ceilings and plentiful natural light. Then the world's best collection of impressionist art. Everyone from Monet, to Manet, Degas, Cezanne, Gauguin, Matisse they're all here. The room full of Van Gogh's is worth the visit alone!

BASDA - A Taste of Home

Here in Pattaya we have so many different types of food to choose from, everything from tasty Thai street food to fine dining in world class restaurants. But sometimes something from the "old country" just calls us and we have to have it !

Several years ago I worked with a colleague who was constantly being treated to gourmet meals when away on his many business trips. One day he confided to me that after all the fine dining when he got home the first thing he wanted to eat was Heinz Baked Beans on Toast!

Similarly when living here in Pattaya there may be something quite simple that you haven't had for a while that is really calling you ? A Fray Bentos pie perhaps ? Some Branston or Haywards pickle to really bring that cheese sandwich to life? For me it's Yorkshire Tea Bags- they seem to be the only ones I can make a decent cup of tea with, rather than all that squeezing and stirring that you need to do with other brands.

Basda has plenty to tempt you with: tinned soups, HP sauce, corned beef, gravy, jams, custards, cakes, Ambrosia rice pudding. You'll find all this and more on their shelves and then in the freezer/fridge section: bacon, burgers, steaks, salmon, and sausages that I can personally recommend. Also plenty of classic ready meals, Cottage pies, Cod in Parsley Sauce, Macaroni Cheese, Beef Stew and delicious ready made curries

Then don't even get me started on the chocolates ! McVities, Cadburys, cakes and all kinds of treats conveniently on hand in Soi Boon Kanchana, Jomtien (also known to many of us as Soi Wat Boon because of the temple at the junction with Sukhumvit Road). So anybody living in Jomtien, Na Jomtien and even Bang Saray can now have a convenient expat local store for all their special taste of home treats.

Just pull up, step inside - no hassle with traffic and car parks to contend with - and see if your favourite is there. There are new lines being added all the time.

SPORTS PREVIEW 2019

With the arrival of 2019 and sport playing such an important part in the lives of expats in Thailand, let's take a look at the sporting calendar for the year and see what we have to look forward to. Just a word to the many golfers in Pattaya who may think that there may have been an error in the following dates, I can confirm that the USPGA tournament has been moved to May and is now the 2nd Major of the year. This now means that the British Open will be the final major tournament to be played in the year.

January

A quiet start to the year mostly taken up by winter sports with various events in the Men's and Women's World Cups. The NFL playoffs in America kick off on the 6th and continue until the 3rd of February, culminating with the Super bowl final. For tennis fans there is the first major of the season the Australian Open from the 14th to the 27th, and towards the end of the month the Sailing World Cup starts in Miami on the 27th and continues to the 3rd of February.

February

February starts with a bang for Rugby Union and American football fans with the Rugby 6 nations starting on the 1st and the Super Bowl Final on the 3rd IN Atlanta Georgia. The Rugby continues in top gear with the European Nations cup kicking off on the 9th. For those into motorsports the Rally World Championships start in Sweden on the 14th. The track cycling world championships conclude the major events in February starting on the 27th and going through until the 3rd of March.

Anyone interested in golf who wants to watch the best women golfers in the world live, should get along to Siam Country Club at the end of the month for the LGPA Honda Classic. This is one of the top tournaments of the year and features all the best players from around the world and is also great value to go along to and watch live.

March

The hugely popular Formula 1 Grand Prix Season starts in Melbourne on the 17th and then continues in Bahrain on the 31st. For all golf fans out there the players Championship (sometimes called the 5th Major) has a new slot and will be played from the 14th-17th. Lovers of National Hunt Racing should make a note of 12th -15th March for the Cheltenham Festival. Whilst locally at Buriram Thailand host the Superbike World Championships from the 15th to the 17th.

April

Formula 1 continues in Shanghai, China on the 14th and then in Azerbaijan on the 28th. The first golf major of the year The Masters is played at the Augusta National from the 11th-14th. The popular Rugby Hong Kong 7s kicks off on the 5th of April and continues until the 7th. The Grand National, the world's most famous steeplechase is being run on the 6th

May

Formula 1 continues on the 12th May in Barcelona, Spain and then on the 26th in Monaco. The second golf major of the season is the Golf USPGA championship being played at the very challenging Bethpage Black course outside New York from the 16th -19th.

For all cricket fans the big event of the year is the World cup which starts on the 30th and will continue right through the summer in England with the final being played on the 14th July. Sunday the 12th sees the final day of the English premier league when all matches are played at 3pm UK time. This final day may well decide who will be the Champions, and who gets relegated for the season.

June

Kicking off the month will be the UEFA Champions League Final being played in Madrid on the 2nd, and now the Formula 1 season is in top gear, we have 3 heats this month, the 9th in Montreal Canada, then the 23rd in France and the 30th in Austria.

The third Golf Major of the season, the Us Open is being played at the beautiful and iconic Pebble Beach in California from the 13th-16th

July

The oldest Tennis tournament in the world and certainly the most prestigious, Wimbledon starts on the 1st and goes on until the 14th.

Formula 1 goes to Silverstone, Great Britain on the 14th and Hockenheim Germany on the 28th.

The British Open Golf Championship is now the final major tournament of the season and is being played at the Royal Portrush Golf Club in Northern Ireland from 18th- 21st

August

A very quiet sporting month, although it does contain the Formula 1 Championship heat in Budapest Hungary on the 4th and then towards the end of the month the 3rd tennis Grand Slam event the US Open starts on the 26th in New York

September

Arguably the major sporting event of the year, the Rugby World Cup gets under way in Japan on the 20th and continues until the 13th November.

It's a busy month for the Formula 1 Championship with 4 heats starting with Belgium on the 1st, Monza, Italy on the 8th, Singapore on the 22nd and Sochi, Russia on the 29th. With the cycling world Championships starting in England on the 22nd and the Athletics World Championships starting on the 28th the sports calendar goes into overdrive.

October

Rugby world cup continues through into October as does the Athletic world Championships. The Formula 1 circuit also continues with the 13th in Japan and 27th in Mexico

November

The Horse Race that stops the Nation, the Melbourne Cup in Australia takes place on the 5th and the Formula 1 circus moves on to Austin, Texas, USA on the 3rd and Brazil on the 17th. Then for Tennis fans the Davis cup Final will be played from the 18th to 24th

December

Finishing the year, December sees the end of the Formula 1 Season. The final race takes place in Yas Marina, Abu Dhabi on the 1st and with the English Premier league and various other sports in full swing there will be no shortage of sports viewing throughout the month

Obviously we cannot mention every sporting event throughout the year but we hope that this gives you some idea of what to expect over the next 12 months. With sport playing such an important part of the Expat life and with so many sports bars in Pattaya with so many screens to choose from we're sure that whatever your sport of choice is, you'll get a chance to see it.

FISHING IN THAILAND

The Fruits of the Sea

Of course, as Thailand is a country with over 3,000 kilometres of coastline, hundreds of islands, mangroves, coral reefs and relatively tranquil seas, the kingdom's fishing industry has long been important, not just for feeding the nation but also economically.

Thailand is the world's third-largest supplier of seafood, and the industry is worth more than 200 billion Baht a year. So, if you've not experienced either Thailand's amazing seafood, or visited some of the many charming fishing ports and villages around the country, you are missing out on an essential element of Thai-ness. The Thai Gulf and Andaman Sea are rich with fish, squid, shrimp, lobster and scallops. But perhaps the most ubiquitous of fish is the small but tasty Pla Tu, a small mackerel which is salted and can be bought in nearly every town and village in Thailand, however far from the sea they might be.

Some of Thailand's best known and most popular dishes are fish, or at least seafood, based. What would a Tom Yam soup be without juicy shrimps? How could a Thai feast be complete without fish cakes or crab fried rice? So important is fish to the Thai diet that, in times past, when people were too poor to afford fish to eat with their rice, they'd hang a small model cut-out of a fish in their home while eating their little bowls of rice.

Of course these days, Thais enjoy food from all over the world, and chicken and pork dishes are on every menu. But there's still a special place in the heart of Thai people for fish. At a restaurant, most dishes are brought to the table when ready, and rarely attract comment from the diners, who just tuck in. But the fish dish, be it steamed in lemon or fried with garlic, is always given special treatment. It is presented by serving staff with a flourish, and is met with appreciative exclamations from the diners. When it comes to Thai cuisine, fish remains the centrepiece of the feast.

Big Game Fishing

Because of its associations with the writer Ernest Hemingway, big game fishing is seen as rather a macho pursuit, a sort of bullfighting on boats. But it's actually a popular hobby with men and women alike – though it can take no little strength to fight and reel in a large thrashing fish over several hours.

In Thailand, Phuket and the waters off Khao Lak are seen as the best place to catch the bigger fish and it is here that species; such as, Marlin, Sailfish, Barracuda, Spanish Mackerel and Tuna are to be found. For the best big game fishing, you have to head further out to sea. This means that serious sports-fishing trips last a few days, so you live aboard the boat. Even if you don't fancy picking up a rod and strapping yourself into the fighting chair, fishing trips give you a great chance to enjoy days at sea, and nights under the stars. There is a bonus to this as you'll get to visit local islands and enjoy a close-up view of activities; such as, birds nest collecting.

Visit a Thai Fishing Village

Even if you don't want to catch your own lunch, it's always fascinating to visit a fishing village and enjoy the comings and goings of the locals and look at the colourful boats. There are numerous charming villages up and down Thailand's coastline, as well as on the islands. Many of these now offer tours so you can head out in fishing vessels, see mussel and oyster farms and even watch the locals at work. This is a wonderful way of experiencing grassroots Thailand and of getting a unique perspective on the local wildlife. A visit to a fishing village usually means you get the chance to sample some of the freshest home-cooked seafood you'll ever taste.

In summary, the importance of fish to Thai culture cannot be underestimated. For centuries, fish have not just been another ingredient but the main source of protein for the people. As a result, fish are as important to the kingdom's cultural traditions, as they are to its culinary ones. So, next time you order a tasty fried Pla Kapong, sample a shrimp or simply flavour your food with a dash of Nam Pla, remember that you're part of a life-sustaining Thai tradition that stretches back millennia.

Tight Lines have a bumper 2019 !

Ocean Marina Yacht Club support disabled sailing in Thailand with purchase of eight “SV14” boats

The World's first fleet of SV14s to be based at Ocean Marina Yacht Club and Top of the Gulf Regatta to host first ever “Thailand Open Parasailing Championship” in 2019

PATTAYA, Thailand – Ocean Marina Yacht Club have invested in Thailand's burgeoning disabled sailing scene with the purchase of eight SV14 boats from FAREAST YACHTS. With limited sailing opportunities for disabled people in Thailand, Ocean Marina Yacht Club have taken the lead with the purchase of what will be the world's first SV14 fleet, and expect to take delivery January, 2019 after which the fleet will be based at Ocean Marina Yacht Club in Pattaya.

“Ocean Marina Yacht Club have been promoting sailing opportunities in Thailand and an avid supporter of grassroots sailing for many years, and now we have taken this one step further with the purchase of eight SV14s which we will use to offer safe sailing opportunities to people with disabilities,” said Mr. Scott Finsten, Harbour Master of Ocean Marina Yacht Club.

A two-person modern dinghy, the SV14 is designed for people with disabilities and is the result of a global collaborative design and build effort initiated by Peter Jacobs, founder of Disabled Sailing Thailand, lead by Simonis Voogd Design and built by FAREAST YACHTS in China.

“This is an exciting development by Ocean Marina Yacht Club and I commend them and Mr. Kirati Assakul, Director of Ocean Property Co., Ltd. who initiated the idea, on their vision and desire make sailing more accessible. I will be working with the Ocean Marina Yacht Club team as well as Disabled Sailing Thailand (the official para sailing body in Thailand), to kick start the class in Thailand with a view to host the “Thailand Open Parasailing Championship” at next year’s Top of the Gulf Regatta,” commented Mr. William Gasson, Co-Chairman of the Top of the Gulf Regatta Organising Committee.

Representing the Thai Paralympic Committee, Ms. Narumon Subsri was present at the official announcement of the SV14 purchase during the recent Ocean Marina Pattaya Boat Show, and together with Ocean Marina Yacht Club and Top of the Gulf Regatta look to grow the sport in Thailand.

“While we look to the future and possibility of Thailand having an official Para Sailing Team, our immediate goals are to install the fleet at Ocean Marina Yacht Club, establish the class in Thailand and offer sailing opportunities for people with disabilities,” added Mr. Finsten.

Established in 1995, Ocean Marina Yacht Club was founded under the love and passion for sailing and yachting. There was a vision in knowing that Thailand’s Gulf boasted some of the best sailing conditions, supported by the optimal winds, beautiful islands, crystal clear waters, and sunny weather...however there was no marina for yacht lovers to access these features. Ocean Marina Yacht Club filled this void, and today stands as one of Asia’s largest marinas, one of the few that offers full facilities for yachts.

PAGS Tournament from Pattavia

Flight Winner - Juha Harilo

Ken Leads The Way with Hot Score

Another day dawned and golfers descended on the Pattavia course for the November PAGS tournament. Today's field of 105 players which included an improved contingent of 16 Ladies had to contend with the course seeming to play hard and fast, with a light breeze to add some interest to approach shots.

Ken Price (15) shot the best round of the day, winning the B Flight for handicaps 14 – 22, with an outstanding 45 points. Mind you Ken needed to shoot the round of the day, as Glenn Armistead (18), who has averaged 40+ points over his past 3 PAGS rounds signed for 43 points, while Bill Kana (22) picked up 3rd spot with 41 points.

A Flight for handicaps 0 – 13 was won by Juha Harilo (13) with a solid 41 points, while the minor placings required countbacks with 3 players on 40 points. Daniel Isaramat (12) led the way with a back 9 of 21, while Mike Gerri (10) edged the unlucky Sami Torkkeli for the bronze 19/18.

In the C flight, for handicaps 23+, there were countbacks required to settle the winners with Mike Warner (34) with a comparatively paltry 39 points getting the better of Odd Hansen (29) 18/17 on the Back 9. Gabriel Enright was the successful countback winner for 3rd spot, beating James Sulavori 18/15 after both players signed for 38 points.

Ladies winner was Pai Vos (29) with a creditable 41 points, while Wiyada Stafford (28) had 40 points to go with her technical on #2.

Low Gross winner was Peter Park (5) with 76 to go with his technical on #1, further honourable mentions go out to Ken Price with his 2 long drives and his approach on #10. Unlucky countback loser Sami did get some consolation with technical prize on #8.

The presentation buffet was well attended, with Dave's crew doing their usual fine job of keeping the hungry mob satisfied. Contact Shane on 0859459689, through Facebook, or birdie.in.th for your preferred time slot.

BANGKOK IN 2019

Even if you don't fancy the idea of taking up residence in Thailand's capital full time it can be great fun to just drop in on the "Big Mango" for the odd weekend. So we look at some ideas of what to visit there in 2019

HEMINGWAY BANGKOK

Certainly something I am personally looking forward to for 2019 is the return of Hemingway's Bangkok which is being painstakingly rebuilt as we speak. Apparently the lush garden, portico, bar area and balcony will all be part of the new Hemingway -Garden Bar & Bistro due to open this month right in the middle of Soi 11 - I can't wait!

Mahanakhon Skywalk

Already up and running the King Power Mahanakhon (currently Thailand's tallest building) has opened its observation deck way up on the 78th floor. Sure to be a real tourist attraction throughout 2019 because it affords panoramic views of the city the brave of heart can stand on the glass floor to look down at vertigo-inducing views of the city.

Not for me but if this is your thing then get along by the end of the month for an opening, special of 10 % discount on the B850 ticket and a complimentary soft drink + B100 cash voucher for alcoholic drink for the B1050 ticket.

THE ONGOING BREXIT FIASCO AND WHAT IT MEANS TO THE UK EXPAT IN THAILAND

One day in June in 2016, specifically the day before the Brexit Referendum, the exchange rate of the pound to the baht was 55. Currently, while writing this article it is hovering around the 41 mark, and with no end in sight to the Brexit shambles it could well be lower by the time you read this!

What this means to the retired UK Expat living in Thailand cannot be over-estimated. Currently the UK state pension is around 680 GBP but to keep it simple, let's take the example of a retired UK Expat on a pension of 1,000 GBP per month. At the pre-Brexit referendum exchange rate this would have been worth 55,000 baht but today the same 1,000 would only be exchanged for 41,000 baht. This represents a huge drop in a retired expats available spending money and must be making many people's lives very difficult at the moment.

The problem is that the Brexit agreement is not even due to be signed until the 29th March 2019 but this represents only a basic "agree to disagree" deal and the full ramifications of trying to disentangle from Europe will roll on for many years. There is one thing that the currency markets do not like and that is uncertainty and obviously this will also be a situation of great concern for our retired UK citizens who live here with us.

There are no short cuts as far as the basic necessities of life are concerned. There is accommodation, power, water, food, transportation and visas that have to be paid for. So our retired citizen has to cut back on eating out, perhaps not seeing relatives as often as before - even just enjoying a few beers with friends. This obviously is having a knock on effect with the various bars and restaurants right here in Pattaya with many reporting that customers who used to visit them around 3 times have already cut back to just once a week.

Coming from the UK myself and having lived here for many years, I too very much enjoy the occasional visits from family coming to Thailand so I understand the difficulties involved, and I also enjoy a beer myself! So if you see some of our senior citizens from the UK in the various bars around the city, who have probably worked their whole lives to enjoy their retirement here and are searching for the best deals available, please refrain from the "Cheap Charlie" comments and the other jibes I have heard directed at them. Everyone has a story and each individual circumstance may be different.

So let's wish our senior citizens who have retired in Thailand the best of luck and let's hope for a speedy conclusion to the Brexit negotiations, (but don't hold your breath), or a change in the strength of the Thai baht to help our friends along.

Strike a pose! Plus the weekly Pattaya Ex Pats Club TV feature with interesting and, sometimes, vital info from the guest speakers that appear there.

If you have any ideas for features or can recommend interesting people for Barry to chat to for his 'Pattaya Stories' series, please contact Pattaya People Media Group by e-mailing to info@pattayapeople.com.

Big sponsors 'Mixx nightclub' and 'Club Insomnia' are always well featured with their infomercials lighting up the daily output.

Also, look out for 'Pattaya and Property Trader' chief editor Gloria Jones have a cozy couch chat with Barry Upton as they delve into the currently released Pattaya Trader.

Finally, the cinema previews are always worth a watch to see what will be showing at Pattaya's excellent cinemas. Available now on Sophon cable around the clock and online at the 'Pattaya People' website - www.pattayapeople.com

Marriage Registration in Thailand

When a foreigner decides to marry in Thailand, the marriage registration process starts with a visit to your embassy. Generally Marriage registration in Thailand can take two forms. It could be a foreigner getting married to a Thai or a foreigner getting married to another foreigner. Thai marriage registration is not overly complicated however the paperwork needed might feel too much for some. When the marriage is registered in Thailand, many if not all the documents have to be translated into Thai.

Marriage registration in Thailand starts with affirmations from your embassy in Thailand confirming not only your citizenship but that you are single. This will allow you to get married in Thailand.

This affirmation is an overnight process. Obtain the format from your embassy and complete it at home. Then take the affirmation back to the embassy and have them authenticate the affirmation.

Marriage registration in Thailand can become a drawn out affair. If you were previously married, you will need to produce your original divorce decree or the death certificate of your late spouse. These documents have to be translated into Thai and taken to the Thai Department of Foreign Affairs to be verified.

Once the documents have been verified by Thai Foreign Affairs, the final step of your marriage registration takes place. The verified documents have to be taken to the local district office called the "Amphur" or "Khet" to register your marriage. Marriage registration ends with the issuing of a Thai marriage certificate.

The statutory statement which would be required by the Thai authorities will set you back about 1,600 Thai Baht each for the US embassy and 3,100 Baht for the British embassy. The embassy procedures would vary but they will charge a fee for notarizing the affirmation. The Thai Ministry of Foreign Affairs also has a nominal fee for verifying the documents which will enable you to register your marriage in Thailand. Fees to have the documents officially translated into Thai also vary.

In summary, a foreigner wishing to register their marriage in Thailand needs to provide the following documents at the local district government.

You will need the following documents:

- Affidavit or Affirmation of Freedom to Marry
- Copy of your passport
- Original Divorce or Death Certificate of their previous spouse

Your Thai fiancée would need the following documents:

- National ID Card or a Valid ID card
- House Registration Certificate
- Original Divorce or Death Certificate of their former spouse
- Name Change Certificates

Alternative Investments

Alternative Investments are classed as ones that do not fit into the usual investment types such as those held on stock exchanges, mutual funds, stocks, pensions, government bonds, etc. They include things such as private equity, hedge funds, infrastructure projects, property, derivatives, commodities, forex, IPOs (Initial Public Offerings), crowd funding etc.

Most alternatives have low liquidity compared to conventional types. An example of this is that it will be a lot harder to sell a part stake in such as a Malaysian forest compared to shares in Microsoft because of the limited number of buyers. By nature Alternative Investments are usually unregulated. This means that although there are some excellent ones there are others which are highly risky. Some are outright fraud and scams. Always be wary of unsolicited calls offering fantastic returns in IPOs, fine wine, property etc. They'll provide you with glossy convincing brochures and persuasive sales talk. These are normally from people using false names working in "boiler rooms" in some far off country. You'll receive worthless ownership papers and receive updates telling you how well your investment is doing but in reality they've stolen your money. Once the complaints start coming in they disappear off the face of the earth. So be warned. Make sure you undertake homework and due diligence to find out if the opportunity is genuine.

Having found a genuine opportunity how do you value it should you wish to sell it in the future? If we take the example of the Malaysian forest again where do you go to sell it? Where do you get a valuation from? Very often there isn't one so how do you know what price to put on it? Think of the things that can go wrong with an investment. Trees can get diseases, forests can burn down, there can be illegal logging. In short look at all the angles in a worst case scenario. If you are being offered a 15% return per year, what's the catch? How long have the company been in business? What profits and losses have they made in previous years? Who are the people behind the company? Can you talk to other investors?

There are excellent alternative investments out there but you have to go in to them with your eyes fully wide open. The returns can be brilliant but the losses can be devastating, you might well end up losing everything. I cannot stress enough that it is essential that you get expert advice and undertake all the necessary checks to ensure that the opportunity is genuine. If you are new or inexperienced in saving and investing I would recommend that you stay away from this type of thing. If you are experienced and everything stacks up then by all means go for it. However I would recommend that it only forms a small part of your overall portfolio. Not more than 15% of the total amount that you have invested.

Annual Balance Sheet

A Balance Sheet is a financial statement that summarizes a company's assets, liabilities and shareholders' equity at a specific point in time. It is often described as a snapshot of a company's financial condition as this report can be used to obtain a complete picture of the financial results and financial position of a business on the last date of the financial year. A balance sheet records the arrangement of money in a business and it shows the accounting value of all the company's assets, liabilities and equity, which may lead to conclusions regarding the liquidity of the entity.

It's called a balance sheet because the two sides balance out. A company has to pay for all the things it has (assets) by either borrowing money (liabilities) or getting it from shareholders (shareholders' equity). These three balance sheet segments give investors an idea as to what the company owns and owes, as well as the amount invested by the shareholders.

The submission of financial statements shall be in accordance with the rules and procedures prescribed by the Directors-General of the Revenue Department and the Department of Business Development. A balance-sheet must be made at least once every twelve months wherein such twelve-month period constitutes the company's accounting period or financial year. A newly established company should close accounts within 12 months from its registration. This must be certified by a qualified external auditor and must be filed with the Revenue Department and Department of Business Development every year.

The balance sheet must be examined by one or more auditors and submitted for adoption to a general meeting within four months after its date. A copy of it must be sent to every person entered in the list of shareholders at least three days before the general meeting. Copies must also be kept open at the offices of the company during the same period for inspection by the shareholders. When the accounts or the documents relevant thereto are lost or damaged, the person having the duty to keep accounts shall notify the Chief Accounts Inspector or the Accounts Inspector of the loss or damage, in accordance with the rules and procedures prescribed by the Director-General, within fifteen days from the date of knowledge thereof, or the date such loss or damage ought to have been known.

The company's annual financial statement must be filed, along with its annual income tax return, with the Revenue Department and Department of Business Development, within 150 days after the end of its accounting period. If a company fails to submit its audited financial statement within the required time then the company is liable to a certain penalty or fine which may also be applicable to its responsible officer. If a company wishes to change its accounting period, it must obtain written approval from the Chief Accounts Inspector of the Revenue Department by submitting Form SorBorChor 4 together with other documents specified in the mentioned form.

RENTING A MOTORBIKE

Now the high season is in full swing we think visitors to Pattaya may need a timely reminder of the rules and regulations which must be adhered to if they are planning to ride a motorbike in the city.

It is the driver's responsibility to have a valid license, to wear a crash helmet at all times and most importantly of all, not to drink and drive. You could have heard that the police in Thailand may take a lenient view of breaking the law on the road but as you will see by the many police checks around Pattaya this is simply not the case.

Alongside this even though you are strictly following the above mentioned rules when you rent your motorbike you must also ensure that it is fully legal and includes up to date tax and insurance So be advised take care on the roads follow these guidelines and have a happy holiday
