Have you heard? There's a new Captain in Pattaya.

The Captain also known as "The Brooklyn Bad Boy" and "Harlan on a Harley" is constantly recreating himself as well as his food. Harlan Goldstein is a global globe trotter who has been in the business of cooking for the rich and famous from the tender age of 14 and is now a culinary veteran of 58 years old

Having survived his honeymoon period here in Pattaya (he arrived 1 ½ years ago) he has rather fallen for the place and decided to make it his home along with his lovely Chinese wife Helen.

This all came about because the owner of The Clubhouse in Cozy Beach made him an offer too good to refuse with a free deal on the rent for 9 years! So after screaming at him "I love you long time" Harlan immediately set to work designing his restaurant. Some might call it OTT but Harlan says:

"Nah I'm just tired of pompous dining where the menu never changes I want a restaurant where I can share my passion and love for food"

Certainly If you like your dining experience subdued, mood lit with a touch of dinner jazz this won't be the place for you

His competitors might despise him but he takes it all with a pinch of salt and when I caught up with him he was having mischievous fun with members of The Breakfast Club on Facebook. However, despite all the banter he's obviously a big hearted guy, passionate about his food and generous to a fault. Josephine, one of the stars of his TV Show, confirms that when the restaurant has a good night he will "share the love" handing out 1,000 baht notes to everyone who works for him. Sure he is loud and a "larger than life personality" but unlike the caricature of the rude, arrogant michelin starred chef he doesn't take it out on his staff.

"They all call me Papa" he proudly informs me "I'm a visitor here but I have a great deal of respect for Thailand I already speak 6 languages and am keen to be able to speak Thai to my staff but in any language I never talk like dirt to them if I get angry I go outside and scream at the wall!"

I'm not going to tell you what to eat when you go to Comfort just go and try ordering something you wouldn't normally choose and enjoy putting yourself in Harlan's capable gastronomic hands. He just might change your mind on your choice of entree to make sure you have a balanced meal or suggest something he has recently discovered that excites him and he wants to share with you such as a new favourite gin

This place is not going to be for everyone but everyone should give it a try and as the man himself says "Love me or leave me" - for sure you'll never forget him.

Hi Readers,

I've often said that you can live or die by your Facebook posts. Sure its a digital marketing medium that can't be ignored and at Pattaya Trader we are pleased to share our advertisers and contributors content on both our Facebook page and Facebook group. However there are groups that have members who take great delight in pulling down fine institutions and restaurants they deem over priced, whilst lamenting their loss when they finally close.

One restauranteur who takes great delight in the thrust and parry of FB banter is Harlan Goldstein. As the Captain of Comfort he is aware that he might not be everyone's cup of tea but takes it all with a pinch of salt letting his food be his best advocate. After all jealousy and imitation can often be the best compliments. Certainly Marco's, this month's Dining in Detail and The Seafood Buffet at the Centara Grand Mirage prove that there's still plenty of first class fine dining in Pattaya. So if the following pages in this month's edition cause you to go check out these fine eateries then please do so and don't forget to mention us when you do.

Thank you and Bon Appetit!

Another vacation for the Abundant Life Home Children at the Thai Garden Resort

School holidays have arrived, which means it was time for another stay at the Thai Garden Resort for the children from the Abundant Life Home. The Thai Garden Resort played host to the 32 orphans and guardians from the Bang Saen's Abundant Life Home, giving the children a three nights stay of four-star treatment. It didn't take long for the kids to spot the Thai Garden's 63 meters long swimming pool, and soon they were splashing around with their guardians joining in. The children also had their pick of the buffet for breakfast each of the three days and enjoyed sleeping in the big comfortable rooms and beds. This visit was the 9th time the hotel has hosted the Abundant Life Home, which American Sanchez – an adopted child herself – founded in 2006, fulfilling a dream she had since her childhood. She came to Thailand to work with the Team 2000 charity when she met a young orphan. After talking with her for a long time, Mrs. Sanchez knew what she wanted to achieve in life: to give children who became orphans a home again.

Mrs. Sanchez noted that not all the children are true orphans. Some are "prison born children" who stay at the Abundant Life Home until their incarcerated parents are released. The other children will stay at the home until they complete their educations and are prepared to start working for themselves. The Thai Garden Resort's owners and management are strong believers in "giving back to our community" and as part of their Social Responsibilities the Management organizes and supports events for those who are in need. Apart from this, the hotel also supports the local Orphanage in Pattaya and organizes their yearly "Toy for Joy" project where goods and funds are collected over the Christmas period. These items are used to support local schools where books, schoolbags, socks and shoes are donated to those who are in need.

For more information please contact the Thai Garden Resort at 038-370614 or at guestservice@thaigarden.com and have a look at the www.thaigarden.com website.

Rotary Club Bangkok South Annual Kids Day Out

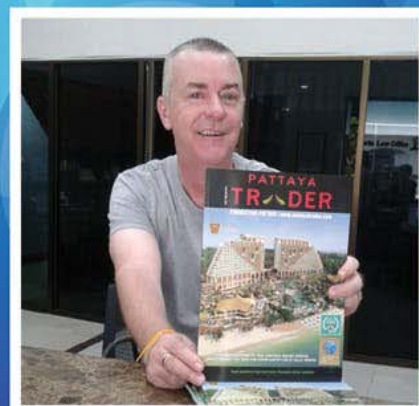

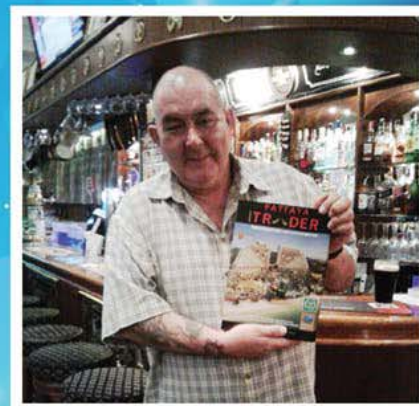

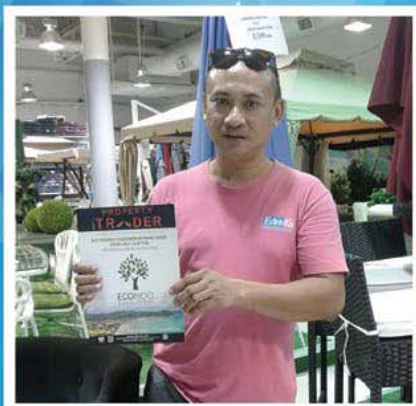

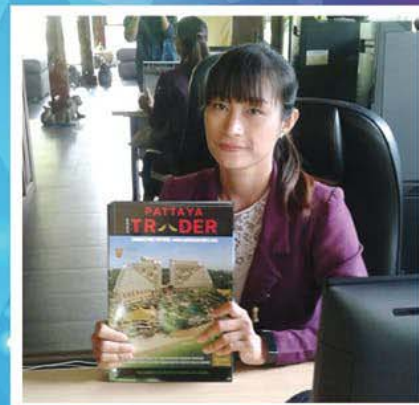

Yes another year has flown by and our fellow Rotarians from Rotary Club Bangkok South Annual Kids Day Out arrived with volunteer helpers at the Royal Varuna Yacht Club. Also in attendance were more than 250 disabled and blind children all living in nursing homes, orphanages or attending special schools in the Bangkok metropolitan area.

Once again our Rotary Club Eastern Seaboard Pattaya had a team of a dozen helpers including Rotarian John Cooper from RC Bexhill on Sea UK to look after the children in the pool and the sea, where many of the children enjoyed the fun of being in the water for the first time!

Jessica Jones season 3

Disney has been pulling Marvel shows and films off of Netflix probably to host their own. So this looks like the last series of Jessica Jones, former superhero turned hard-drinking detective. Details about the plot in this season are sketchy, and most of the material from the comics has been covered in the first two seasons. As Kilgrave won't be returning, this time it will probably be about Jessica and Trish's damaged relationship.

Lost in Space season 2.

I was impressed by the quality of the first season and how they developed the show from the funky original. Speaking of which, looks like some of the original cast might make an appearance this time. Last season ended on a cliff hanger as the Robinsons miss reaching the Resolute. The alien engine in their ship re-routed them instead through a worm hole where they emerge into another galaxy.

The Handmaid's tale season 3.

At the end of season 2 we saw Offred decide not to leave Gilead. In this season we see her return and her work towards creating a revolution against her oppressors. She will need help so will be searching for allies. The series continues to expand on Margaret Atwood's original novel.

Recommended Series; Luther.

After finding fame in The Wire and then going onto movie stardom Idris Elba returns to the BBC to make new episodes of Luther. By combining Elba's portrayal of DCI John Luther and the excellent writing of Neil Cross, the seasons maybe short but it's quality over quantity. As a profiler, John Luther's abilities are called upon to hunt down, some of the nastiest psycho's ever seen on a TV screen. Not for the faint of heart, these villains pull no punches and can truly be shocking. Not to spoil things but worth mentioning is his relationship with Alice Morgan a brilliant psychopath who John knows is guilty but unable to arrest.

Elba has been awarded Critics choices television award, Golden Globe and Screen Actors Guild Award for his performance to name a few. This isn't your usual Police drama.

I've never had a facial before, but the 'all in one facial' at ULB salon was a fantastic place to start.

To begin with, the service was excellent. From the moment I entered the salon I was greeted by the smiling faces of the salon's staff and immediately offered a cappuccino that could go toe to toe with any place in Pattaya. (Yes the salon has its own café on the premises that also offer excellent smoothies, wraps and cakes).

Then I was introduced to the technician, a wonderfully nice guy who gave me a thorough rundown on the length and various stages of the procedure, he made my first time there completely idyllic.

The microdermabrasion (a procedure used to open pores and scrub away dead skin) was the highlight for me but the whole experience was incredibly professional and suited to give me a full facial experience.

I thought I wouldn't find a good facialist in Pattaya but I was mistaken. Since I'm in my mid-twenties I was worried the procedure would be too harsh for my skin, but my technician put me completely at ease and I'm so glad I followed his advice. After leaving I felt fully relaxed and serene, with my skin looking and feeling better than it ever has.

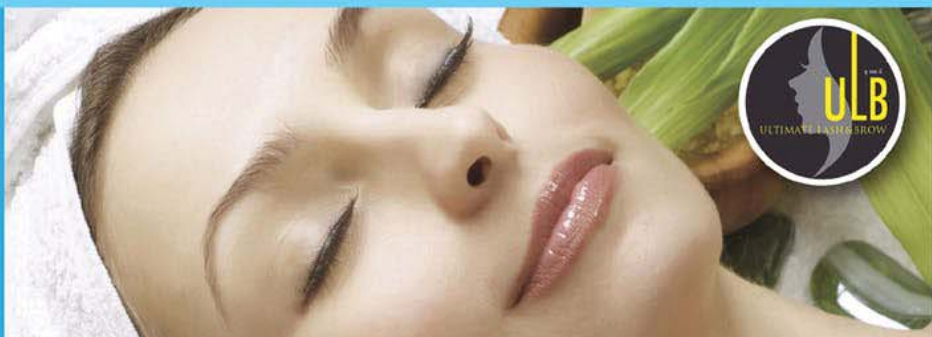

I thoroughly recommend going to their salon at the bottom floor of Nova Ocean in Soi 6, Pratumnak (just across from the "Russian market") and I certainly will be back to see what else I can enjoy there.

SUMMER SPA FACIAL

Have you been to NongNooch Gardens Lately?

Well if like me it's been a few years since you last went to NongNooch Gardens, I urge you to revisit it, especially now the weather has got a bit cooler.

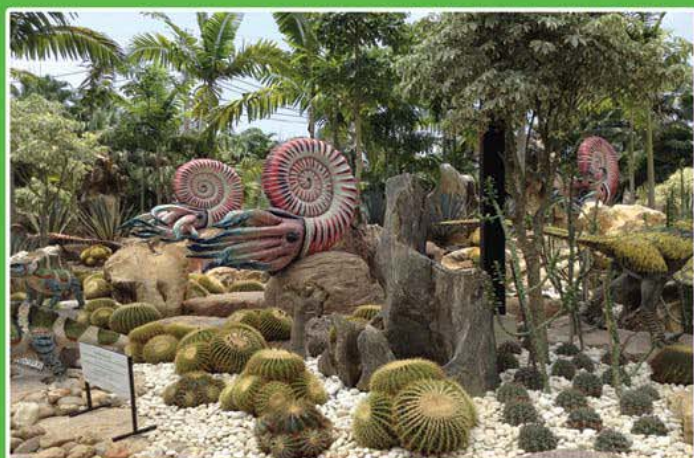

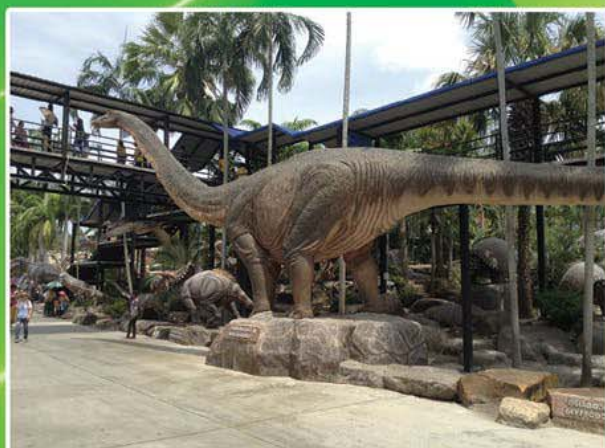

Ranked number 4 in Earth@World's listing of the Top Most Beautiful Gardens in the World and a Gold Medal Winner at the Royal Horticultural Society's Chelsea Flower Show in the UK, it's a given that you will see some amazing plants and beautifully landscaped grounds. What you may be surprised to find - and any children with you completely delighted by - is Dinosaur Valley!

Dinosaur Valley was in its infancy the last time I was here (just coming out of the egg so to speak). Now there are many more larger scale models and even dinosaur sounds to delight your youngsters. Also, there are now more undercover areas, more overhead walkways and some very international looking gift shops, coffee shops and the like.

From the moment you arrive at the Convention and Exhibition Centre you will see that the frontage has been organised to handle any size of party. From taxis dropping off visitors to large coaches, there are designated and individually numbered bays. Likewise inside at the ticket desks, the centre has more of the look of an airport.

Obviously the increase of coach visitors has had much to do with this increase of organisation. However don't worry even on a busy day there is plenty of room and staff are really expert in guiding you around. Unfortunately they need to be as much of the ticketing you will receive is in Thai only. So do not be afraid of asking for advice as to where to go and which queues to join. as from the entrance right through to finding seats at the excellent and very colourful, traditional show, they will be on hand to guide you.

A good tip and something I would recommend as being a real difference to my last visit, is choosing the right place to eat. My very first visit I went to the open air eating space where you have to queue for vouchers before trying to make your selection and find seats in a rather hot, crowded and extremely noisy area. This visit we let Sunny Online handle our booking and took their recommendation of lunch in the Indian restaurant, which otherwise I am sure I would never have known about.

The restaurant starts serving at 12 p.m. and we were there straight away to take our pictures before the other visitors arrived. We were very pleasantly surprised by the breadth of choice, wonderful vegetarian and meat curries, salads and tasty accompanying dishes. Spacious and beautifully air conditioned it was a real treat to sit and calmly enjoy our meal before launching ourselves back out into the park.

Why not revisit a Pattaya Attraction with Sunny Online? You will be pleased at what you can rediscover with their help.

GAME RELEASES

Yakuza 5

After the release and massive success of the Grand theft auto series, many developers copied their formula, some less successfully than others. The Yakuza franchise did well enough to warrant a remaster for the PS4 the original game was released in 2012. Now with boosted resolution and faster frame rate there is no slow down to the action. A great time to revisit this world or experience all the exploration, mini games and drama for the first time. Exclusive release for the PlayStation from Sega.

The Sinking City.

Another game inspired by the works of H.P Lovecraft soon after the Call of Cthulhu. I'm hoping this will have more depth. Developed by frogwares the makers of the excellent Sherlock Holmes games, this horror game has a real "Alone in the Dark" vibe if you remember those. You play as Charles Reed private investigator trying to solve the mystery of a city plunged into hysteria. Don't lose your mind! Out on PC, Xbox and PlayStation.

SUPER MARIO MAKER 2

Super Mario Maker 2.

The first of these came out on the Nintendo Wii console. What's different about this Mario game is that you can create your own courses and share them on-line. Or try out the inventive and impossible levels other people have created. Super Mario Maker 2 has added new features such as slopes, changing scroll direction along with new enemies and themes. The side scrolling platform game lives on! Out on the Nintendo Switch.

MARCO'S RESTAURANT - PIZZERIA

People still ask me where Marco's restaurant is because Thappraya is just one of those roads where it is just so easy to shoot past your destination. You want to keep your eyes open on the left hand side once you've passed La Baguette and if you get to Bruno's (that was) then you've gone too far so park up and walk back ! What doesn't help either is that neighbours Salon Bellica have recently relocated but once you've found Marco's trust me you will return.

Open from 12pm it's a great place to stop for lunch or even a lovely coffee with equally lovely Marco seated al fresco or at the bar indoors.

Best known for its pizza and pasta, there are signature dishes of baked pastas such as the tortellini in a veritable cheese fondue of sauce that are a delight - but handle the dish with care as the pasta will come out piping hot. Also there are pizza combinations for anyone and everyone. I used to stick to traditional Neapolitan or Pepperoni options raising my hands in horror at the addition of pineapple when faced with a "Hawaii". However, with more than 20 different varieties to choose from even traditionalists like myself can be swayed at Marco's and their seasonal pizza with Truffle is my new favourite.

In addition to the pizzas and pastas there is an extensive menu that includes beef and salmon carpaccios, salads, escalopes, steak and fish dishes with several great sauce options to choose from .... and don't even get me started on the desserts!

With a dining room upstairs should you want to book for a birthday or private meeting what I personally love about Marco's is the relaxed atmosphere, friendly staff and informal seating. Families, groups and even single diners are all made to feel very welcome. The decor is charming and day or night (they don't close until midnight) you will feel relaxed and refreshed by a great dining experience.

7 WAYS TO MAKE YOUR CAT HAPPY - CHECK OUT THE TECHNIQUES HERE

Cats are often seen as 'easy' pets that require little time and attention. However with these 7 simple tips you can make life a lot easier for your cat. He will spin with happiness!

1. The cat as a hunter

Cats have a very strong hunting instinct. Even the sweetest lap cat is a hunter deep inside. Thanks to its athletic body, sharp vision and sense of smell, every cat is perfectly equipped to go hunting. Cats prefer to hunt in the night and can spot prey in the dark. Hunting also provides the necessary physical exercise so allow your cat the opportunity to hunt for example by playing hunting and fishing games. Use a fishing rod with feathers on is a fun for your cat.

By the way when cats really do go hunting they can sometimes bring a 'gift' home for you. This may not be pleasant but don't punish your cat, it is a sign of his love for you.

2. Rest and space

Cats spend about 60% of their time sleeping. Much of it happens during the day, and you do him a great favor by giving him that rest. Make sure your cat has enough spots to retreat to without being disturbed by people, small children or other pets.

Rest and space are both important for the well-being of your cat. Where too many cats live together they can get stressed and display competitive behaviour (such as scratching, spraying, uncleanness, aggression). If you have several cats, ensure that there are sufficient spaces where the cats can withdraw. Cats like to lie in high places where they can oversee the environment and feel safe. For example, make a nice place to lie high in a bookcase or attach shelves to the wall and tape a cat bed to it.

3. Interaction with humans: short and often

Cats love contact with people enormously, but in a different way than we humans experience. Although some cats like to lie on a lap for hours others would rather have short contact more often during the day. So take this natural need into account

4. Crabs

Crabbing is an important natural requirement of your cat. He does it to take care of his nails, to mark his territory and to get rid of stress. Therefore, give your cat a large scratching post that he can use to stretch his entire body - he must be high enough, and preferably also choose a somewhat thicker scratching post so that your cat can almost wrap his body around it. Then he can stretch himself wonderfully against it.

5. Litter box

Cats are very hygienic animals and therefore love a clean, fresh litter box. Preferably choose a natural cat litter without perfume. It may smell nice to us, but your cat will pick it up and regularly change the container and scoop out new droppings every day.

6. Nutrition

As owners we can sometimes be inclined to 'spoil' our cat with tasty snacks but unfortunately more than a quarter of the domestic cats are overweight. With all the inconveniences and health problems that this entails it is best to ensure a balanced diet where your cat stays slim and fit. Indulge him with extra play moments or nice new scratching furniture instead. Choose a quality chunk or wet food or raw meat that can be for sale in the freezer at the pet store.

7. Every cat is different

Yes, cats are solitary hunters and can sometimes be stubborn. But every cat has its own character, needs contact to a greater or lesser extent and would like to remain mentally and physically challenged. So observe your cat well in his behavior, get to know his 'language' and provide him with his natural need of hunting, playing, sleeping and hugging. Do you have too little time to pay attention to your cat? Then find a sweet and experienced cat sitter who will visit your cat 1 or 2 times a day during your absence.

10 Cleaning Hacks around the house using bicarbonate of soda

Bicarbonate of soda is a really effective yet gentle abrasive cleaner and a great natural deodoriser. Just Make sure not to confuse it with baking powder as It's bicarbonate of soda that is really helpful for cleaning all around the house. Such as with these top 10 hacks:

1. Clean your stained or smelly plastic food containers

To freshen your containers, wipe with a clean sponge sprinkled with bicarbonate of soda or you can really work on tough stains by soaking in a solution of 4tbsp of bicarbonate to a litre of warm water.

2. Use it as an all round cleaner for your kitchen

Nearly every dirty spot in your kitchen can benefit from the bicarbonate mixed with warm water solution. You can use it to clean countertops, stainless-steel sinks, microwaves, cooking utensils and really stubborn greasy dishes and pans that need more power than just your regular washing-up liquid.

3. Combat smells in your fridge

A small pot of bicarbonate left in the fridge will absorb strong food odours so they don't linger.

4. Rinse stale-smelling sponges

Soak these kitchen staples in bicarbonate of soda and water to freshen them up so you can use them for a little longer.

5. Use on musty upholstery and carpets

Deodorise upholstery and carpets around the house by sprinkling them with bicarbonate, leave for 5 minutes and then Hoover up.

6. Clear a clogged drain

Clear a stubborn drain by pouring down 125g of bicarbonate of soda followed by 125ml vinegar. Cover with a wet cloth then wait 5 minutes and flush with hot water.

7. Clean away mildew in the bathroom

Scrub your bath, tiles, sink and shower curtain with a damp sponge and bicarbonate of soda then rinse.

8. Use for Whiter, brighter laundry

Add 200 grammes of bicarbonate to your washing machine load or combine the soda with liquid detergent to help your clothes come out cleaner.

9. Deodorise your Rubbish bin

Place some bicarbonate in the bottom of your bin to fight unpleasant smells.

10. Clean patio furniture

Whiten plastic garden chairs and furniture by wiping them down with bicarbonate soda and water.

SHINECOIN

Shinecoin is a cryptocurrency that has appeared in Pattaya recently and has been advertised in this magazine. The Trader decided to take a closer look at the currency and try to answer some of the questions that our readers may want to ask.

QUESTION. WHAT IS SHINECOIN?

Shinecoin is a relatively new cryptocurrency that first came into being in early 2017. It currently has about 1200 members in countries as far apart as the USA, Sweden, the UK, the Philippines and Thailand to name a few.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Unlike other cryptocurrencies, Shinecoin is not traded on the open market. Only a certain amount of coins are available to buy every month, which helps to stabilize the price and avoid wild fluctuations. It is a long term plan, with currency being released for sale every month for the whole 15 year term. Only after the completion of the plan will it be put onto the open market.

WHAT IS THE AVERAGE INVESTMENT?

Obviously this varies but judging by the posts on the Facebook page the average investment is surprisingly small. We contacted the admin at Shinecoin and they told us that although there are some bigger investors from the early days they encourage smaller investors to grow the membership and you can become involved for as little as 5000 baht or less. Ideal for testing the water without risking your hard earned cash.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND IS MY MONEY SAFE?

With an investment of any kind there is always risk. Again we contacted Shinecoin and they explained to us how they deal with the situation of too many sellers and not enough buyers, the situation where most risk comes from. It is not for us to tell you if your investment will be safe, that is for you to contact them and make your own mind up. All we can say is that we accept Shinecoin as payment at the magazine and we have spoken to several investors and every one of them was happy with their returns so far.

WHERE CAN YOU SPEND SHINECOIN?

There is a list of bars and restaurants featured in this magazine where you can spend Shinecoin, although because we are a monthly publication we may be slightly behind the times! Go to their website or Facebook page for updates. The list is expanding all the time.

CONCLUSION

From our own point of view, having dealt in Shinecoin to a small degree, spoken to many investors and having personal knowledge of the people involved, our conclusion would be, so far so good. We haven't mentioned any specific figures here as that would be the business of the Shinecoin admin and the investor and no one else, but like everything else that costs money, if you're interested, ask as many questions as you need. And if you decide to go ahead, start with what you can afford to invest.

If you want to know more, go to Shinecoin.com for more information. Remember they have representatives in Pattaya, so a person to person meeting can be arranged. You can also go along to the next open evening which will be announced on their Facebook page.

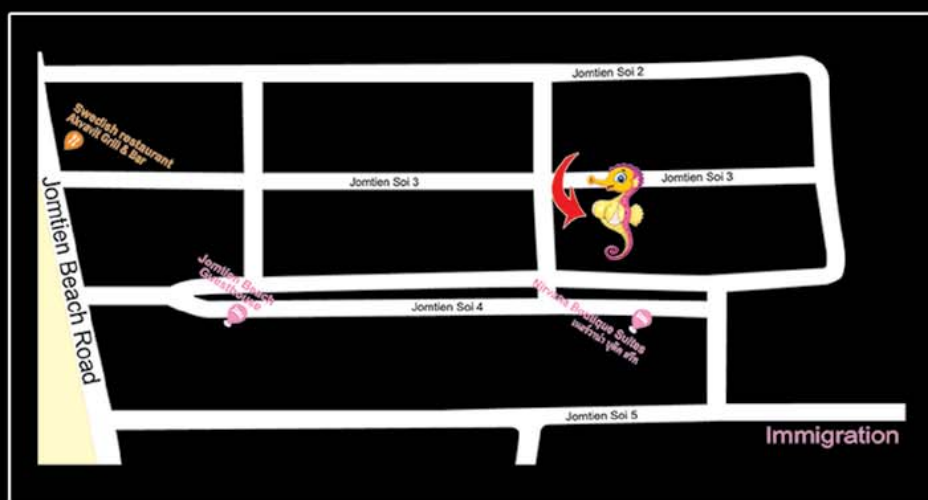

Or for more information go to their website <https://shinecoin.com/>

Mika's Star Shines at Burapha

Mika Viljakainen - A Flt and Low Gross Winner

A big welcome from Burapha Golf Club awaited the New Nordic Pattaya Amateur Golf Series for April, with a solid Low Season crowd of 93, which included a contingent of 8 Lady players.

Burapha A & B 9s were the combination of the day, with the course playing at its full scorecard length, and in overall fine condition. The conditions were oppressively hot, only a light breeze to offer any relief. The course was in generally good condition, so good scores were the order of the day, but not for all.

The A Flight for players for 0 – 12 saw Mika Viljakainen (9) show some great form to shoot a fine score of 74, winning Low Gross, to go with top spot in the Flight with a spectacular 43 points. As further proof of his fine play on the day, Mika also collected 2 approaches on A2 & B6. Peter Nixon (9) was a tad unlucky to get beaten by the hot hand of the day, his 42 points only good enough for 2nd on this day, while Frode Brandt (9) signed for 40 to collect 3rd. Peter also won the Long Drive on A9 in the 65+ age division, to complete a successful day.

Ladies Flight winner on the day was Jirasuda Robinson (16) with a comparatively moderate 35 points.

B Flight for handicaps 13 – 19 was won by Reijo Heiskanen (19) with a solid 42 points, ahead of 3 players on 40 points. Daniel Grob (13) had the best back 9 of 21 points to claim 2nd spot, while George Muller (15) had to be satisfied with the bronze medal position after signing for 20 points on the back 9, with Mikael Andersson's back 9 of 19 saw him miss out.

The C Flight winner for handicaps 20+ was Henry Wong (31) with the equal day's best score of 43 points, to supplement his Near Pin on B3. Andrew Makara (26) played well to record 42 points, while Todd Fox (34) picked up 3rd spot with his 40points, beating Charlie Heneghan on countback.

Honourable mentions to Bill Kana with his 3 technicals, and to Jerry Sweetnam for his 2.

With the early start to the Buffet and subsequent presentation, it was good to get home, put the feet up and relax after a hot day.

A big thank you to all the sponsors of the New Nordic Pattaya Amateur Golf Series, with May's tournament scheduled for Wednesday 29th, at Burapha C & D, contact Shane on 0859459689, through Facebook, or birdie.in.th for your preferred time slot.

After many years of racing, including 8 Atlantic crossings, Dominique Demachy will again be taking part in both Transatlantic and coastal races in Europe. He will then bring his boat to Pattaya (where he currently lives) to participate in nautical events both in Thailand and throughout Asia. To realize this he needs the help of interested sponsors.

"I am ready to invest myself, as much as I have done before in order to strongly promote the notoriety of a company. Also of Pattaya and this region of Thailand itself. It will be a great challenge to be able to promote the practice of sailing in Thailand and the positive image that this brings to such a wonderful country. I therefore remain available for all discussions on this subject"

Dominique's many Transatlantic races include:

- The Transat (solo)
- Quebec-St Malo (in a crew)
- Transat Jacques Vabres (as a double)

FISHING

For many Falangs, "Fish Day" or "Fishing Day" is that "Pull-Here" strip on the box you rip to get at a big portion of battered cod. We may not fish, ever. But we pay lip service to the idea of fishing, even though fish have no lips, because it's one of those things embedded in our culture and DNA... like a sharp hook in a trout's gullet.

Some say...I wish I liked it, but I lack the patience. If I wanted to sit for six hours waiting for something dramatic to happen, I'd watch a "Downton Abbey" or "GOT" marathon. (There, I've alienated everyone.)

Back home (Europe side) we have Catch and Release (CAR) lakes (Similar to the private fishing lakes here in Thailand), where there are helpful reminders: "Lakes are opened to liberalized fishing when a fish population is endangered due to the lack of oxygen available in the water. These lakes are opened so that the public can take fish before they die."

It sounds like you're expected to drive them around and show them the sights before they pass. "Hey... What's on your bucket list Mr Fish? ...Well, not a bucket, Pal....5555555

I shouldn't really be telling this story but even someone who has fished in serious world federation competitions do have lapses due to the demon drink (Leo)

One sunny June day along with good friends Gary and Chris (Surnames removed for legalities 555) and a couple of the wives and GF's, we went to fish at a lake near Pathum Thani. Now I love my fishing but the one part I truly hate to do is spinning for fish and unbeknown to me the lake was spinning only for Barramundi.

Well the lake was packed with Thais and Asians from other countries all casting in every 30 seconds and repeating, repeating and repeating... With the odd fish being caught and myself and the guys setup and started casting away.

After about 2 hours of total boredom I stopped and ordered a few beers and spent the next few lazy hours sipping cold Leo and let the girls order up some amazing food... Needless to say the beers kicked in and things became a bit hazy. One of the girls had ordered Tom Yum Seafood which held and array of the finest prawns and Octopi and it was then that my full drunken knowledge of what bait Barramundi would love (Spicy Seafood)

With the beers still coming and a piece of seafood attached to my lure, I casted in and let drop. Just in case the owners did not see me ledgering I falsely (And I'm not overly proud) started to reel in. BANG... A 5 lb. Barramundi... Cast – BANG ... Cast – BANG its was a fish a chuck as they say.

With the beer kicked in I showed a Japanese couple beside me how to catch and they were ecstatic as I think they had never caught a fish over 6 ounces before but they were quick to order Tom Yum Seafood (Suddenly there was a big rush for the Thai delicacy)

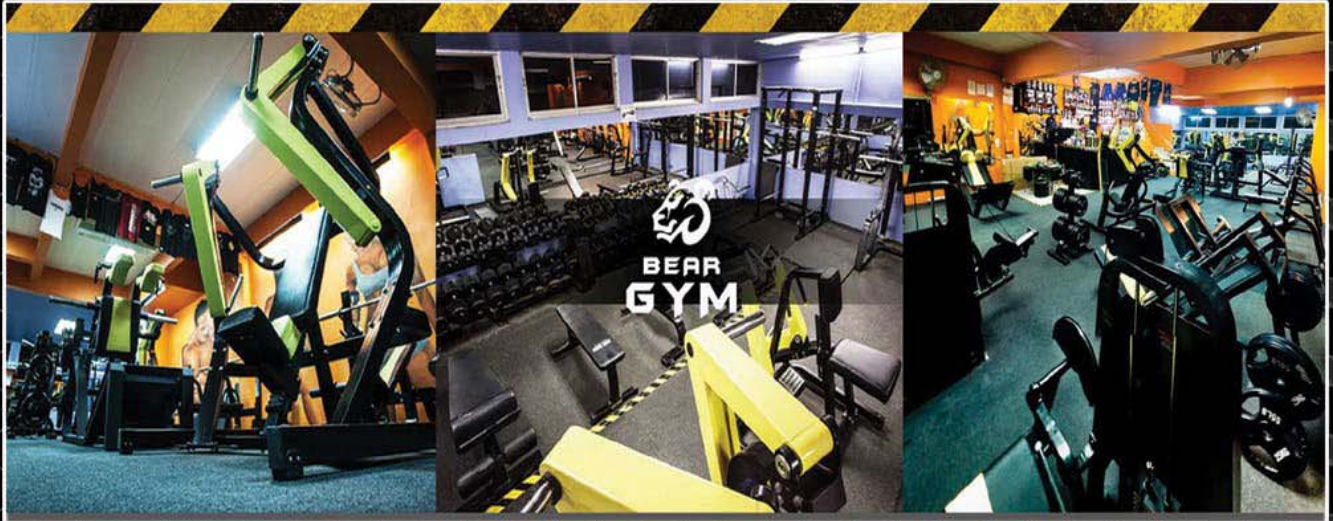

It wasn't until I was baiting up my lure to catch my 20th fish that (In a slight drunken stagger) I tried to show the owner how to add a piece of prawn to a lure (He had sneaked up on me and stood beside me watching in disbelief) and nobody was able to warn me as they were all too busy catching fish 55555.

Myself, Buddies, and the girls were asked to leave the fishing park .... Spinning is sometimes a great way of enticing fish but its defo a pet hate of mine and the spinning I did that day was through intoxication not by rod casting.... I slept all the way back to On-Nut Soi 8.

Again, the closest some of you will get to CAR is returning a Filet-O-Fish because there's hair in the tartar sauce, so don't listen to me about any of this. Go and enjoy a real day's fishing (Not forgetting drinking and eating) ....Just be careful not to get caught using banned baits ... Unless you are too drunk to care.

Thailand Investment Visa

By Magna Carta Law Office

Investment Visa is granted to qualified business people or investors who have the capacity to invest at least 10M Baht worth of real estate, deposits, or bonds in Thailand, which in return, provides the investors the right of residence or long-term stay in Thailand.

This is structured to ensure that the investment contributes to the welfare, innovation and economic development of Thailand. There are three different options to invest the funds:

1. Buying a condominium unit at a purchase price or rent of at least 10 Million Baht.
2. Holding the funds in a fixed deposit account at a Thai bank whose share capital is majority Thai owned.
3. Buying or holding Thai government or Thai state enterprise bonds worth at least 10 Million Baht.

Benefits

- There are no age limitations, unlike the retirement visa that requires the individual to be aged 50 years or over.
- It provides not only the investing party's long-term stay in Thailand but also for their family members, such as parents, spouse and children.

Qualifications

You must be able to present the following:

- Must have been granted a non-immigrant visa (NON-IM).
- Evidence of transferring funds into Thailand of no less than 10 Million Baht.
- Evidence of investing in the purchase or rental of a condominium unit for a period of no less than 3 years issued by a relevant agency or government, at a purchase or rental price of no less than 10 Million Baht; or

- Evidence of investing in the form of a fixed deposit of no less than 10 Million Baht with a bank which is registered in Thailand and has Thai nationals holding more than 50 percent of its shares; or
- Evidence of investing in the purchase of government or state enterprise bonds of no less than 10 Million Baht; or
- Evidence of making an investment as set out in Criteria (3), (4), or (5) with a total value of not less than 10 Million Baht.

The different investment options above can be combined. Therefore it is possible to qualify for the Investment Visa by purchasing a condominium unit for less than 10 Million Thai Baht and, in addition, deposit the balance of 10 Million Thai Baht to a fixed deposit account at a qualified Thai bank.

Restrictions

Holders of this type of visa are strictly prohibited to work in Thailand. Furthermore, you must report to the Immigration Office in your area of residence every 90 days during your stay in Thailand. During this period, you need to apply for and obtain a single or multiple re-entry permit at the Immigration if you wish to leave and re-enter the country. Otherwise, the permit for you to stay for the rest of the visa duration will become invalid.

Validity

Once approved, the investor will be issued an initial three-month Visa. You must then take the same set of documents to the immigration, within two weeks of its expiration date, for 1-year extension. This can be renewed annually as long as you maintain the 10 Million Baht worth of real estate, deposits, or bonds.

ULB® An American / International Salon

If you realize owning a salon is too much responsibility..... If you want to do good hair, nails, waxing, lashes, be inspired, make more money, teach and be taught—and couldn't do that in a room by yourself...

We are looking for talented booth renters like you!

We are looking for Russian, Chinese, Japanese, Thai, and European "MASTER STYLISTS".
Must be able to speak English! 99.9% Of our customers are foreigners.
(ULB® will obtain work permit for qualified applicants)

Why booth rent with ULB® Pattaya?

Being able to offer your clients the best possible experience. Better client experience = better clients = more money!

How Much Does ULB® Pattaya Charge for rent?

You only want to pay 5,000 THB a month for a chair? That's absolutely fine, but don't expect a beautiful space or much in the way of amenities. Do you want big picture windows, exceptional lighting, big stations, foot traffic, full beverage service, parking and a receptionist?

Money is the bottom line, right?

Being a booth renter means running your own business, so let's talk money, because that's really the point of all of this. We have chosen creative, fulfilling jobs, and that is wonderful, but at the end of the day, we are all here to make money. So listen up, because we're going to break down the actual numbers for you. You don't want to skip this part. Your own numbers may vary..., depending on where you live and what you charge, but the principle is the same. If you are charging 350-850 THB for a haircut and making 49% of that at a commission salon. If you did 100,000 THB in services in a month average, after commission, taxes, and deductions you'd go home with roughly 49,000 THB a month (not including tips). It's enough to live on, but it's a pretty modest life. Skip forward to the same service numbers as a booth renter. You will be paying 10,000 THB a month for a chair, plus estimate another 5,000 THB a month in expenses (color supplies, accounting, etc). For that same 100,000 THB month in revenue, you are now keeping 85,000++ THB Plus tips. That's 80-90% more money in your pocket at the end of each month for the exact same amount of work.

TOO YOUNG TO START AN EMPIRE &
NEVER TOO OLD TO START A NEW

Being your own boss.

Make your own hours. Never again have to answer to someone who thought you should come in earlier, or be more involved in team events. And you know what, you will still part of a team of people who love and support one another, but want to keep more of their money. All the things that you have been afraid of become easy and routine very quickly. It's amazing how quickly you can adapt, especially when there's money involved. So if you have a steady clientele, why on earth would you keep giving so much of your money to someone else? Take charge of your own business, make a change! You will never regret the choice.

What are the pros to being independent booth rental?

The freedom and flexibility to have your own schedule, and creatively to go whatever direction you want. A financial gain because you are not giving up the huge percentage of your money to a landlord.

Responsibilities like stocking retail, doing laundry, handling front desk can prevent you from being creatively free. At ULB® we handle all the front desk, online booking, marketing and customer service for you. Giving you the freedom to focus just on your clients.

Being a part of talented team.

Another advantage is working next to other stylists and seeing their work. Now you will be learning secrets of the trade that you didn't know. Styling tips on how to do certain hair types, or what product they used. Being a part of a team, we're together, "as one united force we are great".

THINK YOU'VE GOT WHAT IT TAKES?
JOIN THE TEAM

Think about why you're in the industry and what you need?

Are you getting what you need out of it artistically? Are you keeping yourself inspired? Is the communication you have with just your clients enough? Are you ok with being isolated in a room by yourself?

Are you giving the best you can?

When you do an amazing haircut in the salon and people watch it, that feels good. When nobody sees it, what are the odds you are going to just give a simple trim? Your peers know the difference between a good and great haircut, and being in the salon puts you on stage with your co-workers. Most stylists want recognition and to watch other people. It's not a natural environment to be isolated. It's hard—while a client's color is processing, you can't just get your lunch out and eat, or leave them in a little room by themselves.. Come and grow your skills with us!

If you realized owning a salon is too much responsibility.. If you wanted to do good hair, be inspired, make more money, teach and be taught—and couldn't do that in a room by yourself.

INVESTOR PARTNER

Seeking an Entrepreneur who wants to change the world!

I have an online business that is ripe and 9 years established and needs a team.

Imagine a website where sales managers and business owners log into each day and cherry pick buyers who are desperate for their products and services! well this is what I have created, and I am scared about how to manage the explosive growth when we finally add the last piece of the jigsaw (you) together.

If you can scrape together just 500k THB then we can start and I'll prove to you beyond all doubt how in 5 months we break even, and in 12 we all sit back and watch this blossom with fat salaries and dividends, and in 3-5 years once we have franchised this to every country, we see what offers we get from the big boys and retire to the sun with an IPO or $9 figure sell out!

If you looked at my sites right now and say to yourself without even meeting me; 'well I can't see what you mean' then please PLEASE don't kick my tyres! I need Entrepreneurs with guts and vision! Keep this advert cos it will be something to show your grandkids!

We are a business directory but on the back we have the world's only genuine list of buyers for all categories of business and we can get around 20 hot leads a day!

Our target market is Business owners and sales Managers who need customers (so that's virtually everyone!) and we have to educate them to understand they don't need to do all this expensive and time costly lead generation activities, they just log in to our site and browse the customers, call them and sell to them!

I, on my own, (with 20 years direct sales experience and ten years self taught digital marketing experience) run a digital marketing consultancy business, and I have the above bubbling in the background. I have ten sites in ten countries, 40k visitors a month (with zero ad budget!), 5000+ members (who found us on search engines and thought yeah that looks good!) 100 new join every month, and I have 500k social media reach, and many other top level domains, so to ask you to bring at least 500K THB to the table is a mere act of faith on your behalf for the cash you will walk away with every month in less than 1 year!

So if you are tired of working for a living and feel there must be a smarter way, and want to have enough cash to do what you want with life, then give the people what they want and join with me and the customers in return will give us wealth!

Reading: A job interview technique

Based on concerns about the quality of university graduates, a simple idea to assess quality is to ask graduates to read during the job interview process. Asking about reading habits is a great way about finding out about someone so why not use it in a job interview? Inquiry into reading habits is a simple tool that can be used at all levels of an organization.

Reading tells us about a person's interests, abilities, awareness and likelihood of innovativeness. Asking what a person reads, how often, what they think about the material and how they communicate their opinions on what is presented gives excellent insight into a person's potential job fit.

A company should be looking for someone that loves reading, not just social media post but long-form articles and books. Also, a company should be looking for different genres or subjects. Breadth and depth of reading help to show that the person is aware and adaptable to different areas and can thus be innovative by bringing in ideas from various sources. Medical imaging and geologists share a lot of techniques and tools. Adding creativity to the work environment make a company more dynamic.

Frequency is also important. Reading should be a daily habit, not an occasional holiday activity. Most, if not all, great leaders read regularly. Having people engaging their grey matter with daily workouts is what keeps a company healthy. Companies need employees to keep updated with industry events. Skills upgrades are driven by market wants and industry trends. Smart employees know what is happening, are proactive and are always positioning themselves for change. A reader is the type of person that is aware and more likely to act or at least sound the warning.

How the person interacts and communicates about what they read is another crucial aspect. Reading a tome on philosophy make little sense if there is no sharing and discussion on the topics presented. Alternative views help in understanding what the author intended. Having substantial conversations requires an in-depth awareness of a subject and its interaction with other areas. These meaningful conversations start with reading.

Some may question if a degree is needed or if university graduates are really worth their salt.? Having potential candidates demonstrate their skills might be useful to test their fit for the job. For those companies with many applicants, a demonstration might be cumbersome, expensive or time-consuming. Thus, having the candidate communicate their understanding of a situation, related issues and how they would tackle a subject can be achieved in the 30 to 60 minutes customarily given to interviewees.

Reading enhances a person's communication skills; thus, a well-read person can assess a situation (read an article), see the issue in the context of the industry (relate to other news) and discuss the potential impact on the company they are seeking to work with (provide options). What companies want are people who can see an issue, suggest ways to maximize the opportunity or minimize the impact, and contribute to the company's growth. Reading is a starting point.

Reading does not have to be on paper, though the general rule, "read on screens for awareness and paper for learning" applies. Paper uses more senses and supports note-taking, conversation, repeat reading, convenience, and continuity. Learning, after all, is not only about reading but also includes interaction with what is being presented.

In December 2018, a Thai CEO gave a talk about company strategy to my students and all his questions to the students related to what was going on in the news. Many of the students were lost. The smart ones then realized all the fuss I made about reading was necessary. Even in Thailand, CEOs are reading and care about the news. So during the next job interview, asking the candidate about their reading habits may be a way to find out if they are suitable for your workplace. Give them a hint, place a magazine on the table in front of candidates. See who leaves their dumbing screen for grey matter movement. Seeking prestigious universities' graduates carries some weight but perhaps that weight is not useful when a company wants someone nimble. Agility comes from regular mental workouts - from reading!

RENTING A MOTORBIKE

Now the high season is in full swing we think visitors to Pattaya may need a timely reminder of the rules and regulations which must be adhered to if they are planning to ride a motorbike in the city.

It is the driver's responsibility to have a valid license, to wear a crash helmet at all times and most importantly of all, not to drink and drive. You could have heard that the police in Thailand may take a lenient view of breaking the law on the road but as you will see by the many police checks around Pattaya this is simply not the case.

Alongside this even though you are strictly following the above mentioned rules when you rent your motorbike you must also ensure that it is fully legal and includes up to date tax and insurance So be advised take care on the roads follow these guidelines and have a happy holiday
