Just opposite Big C Extra on Pattaya Klang you will come across a retail store that sells ready made and made to order clothing for both ladies and gentlemen. It is Jana's Boutiques.

Jana opened her first boutique in 1992. At that time she was a professional singer who could never find the perfect outfit and so started to design them herself. It wasn't long before her natural flair and creativity took over and now she has been designing quality ladies wear for more than 20 years.

Her faithful customers come from all over the world: New York, Moscow, Oslo, Hong Kong, London, Paris and of course Bangkok.

Selling from her collections she is also able to produce one off designs each one being unique to her boutique and not to be found in any other shop anywhere in the world.

What you notice as you first walk in the shop are the sparkling show gowns perfect for Pattaya's live music songstresses. However, Jana also has day outfits, office wear, evening gowns and party clothes with either full length or cocktail dresses.

Do not worry if you are not stock size as there is an excellent made to order service available complete with fittings and adjustments.

These are all carried out in the shop with personal service under the careful eyes of the shop's manager Khun Anne.

Drop by anytime to have a look at what is on offer at JANA's BOUTIQUES. It's a real jewel right in the heart of Pattaya where you can spend a pleasant time shopping in a relaxed, friendly atmosphere.

This Month in Discover Pattaya

Hi Everybody,

Last month we were all about exercising and I do hope you managed to do some despite the absence of gyms because this month we're all about food! There's plenty to tempt you in the following pages with recipes to cook at home, takeaways for delivery or dine in options which we are now able to do - albeit without alcohol. Restaurants have been really struggling over the past couple of months so please do what you can to support them as these are exactly the businesses we will all miss should they be forced to close.

The property industry however remains buoyant with building still going on at sites all over Pattaya. Developers remain optimistic for the longer term and there are even Property Awards Shows coming up in Bangkok at the end of the year. So light at the end of the tunnel? Here's hoping.

Good luck getting your vaccinations sorted and in the meantime please stay safe
Gloria

A Short Guide to Thai Honorifics

There's too much to be said about Thai culture in general for one small article, so we'll be focussing on one aspect of Thai social culture – honorifics.

Thai people will frequently use honorifics when addressing other people. The most common and formal one is "Khun" which roughly translates to "Mr" or "Mrs" in English. Unlike English though, Thais generally eschew the use of surnames and will instead use people's first names. For example we will say Khun John instead of Khun Smith. Khun is a good choice for somebody you've just met or for use in formal or business situations.

The other common honorifics are "Phi" and "Nong". They are both slightly informal. Phi is used when addressing people the same age or older than you - as long as you're roughly from the same generation as them. Nong is used when addressing people younger than you. Like Khun, Nong and Phi are used with the first name - as in Nong Ploy or Phi Fah. Nong and Phi are commonly used amongst friends, colleagues, and when addressing waiters and other service staff.

If addressing somebody from an older generation, you may use Khun Na or Khun Loong - which roughly translates to younger auntie/uncle and older auntie/uncle respectively. As it incorporates "Khun" it is considered polite.

Khun, Phi, and Nong are all gender neutral - they're used when addressing both males and females.

There are many other honorifics but these are the most common ones. As you can see, using the correct one can be nuanced and depends on the situation!

หลักการสั้นๆ สำหรับการ ให้เกียรติบุคคลในสังคมไทย

วัฒนธรรมไทย สามารถจำแนกได้หลายประเภท โดยในบทความนี้จะกล่าวถึงการให้เกียรติซึ่งกันและกันในสังคมไทยซึ่งเป็นส่วนหนึ่งของวัฒนธรรมไทย

โดยทั่วไปคนไทยมักจะให้เกียรติเมื่อกล่าวถึงคู่สนทนาหรือบุคคลอื่นด้วยการเพิ่มคำนำหน้าชื่อ ซึ่งคำที่ถูกนำมาใช้บ่อยและเป็นทางการที่สุดคือคำว่า "คุณ" ที่ความหมายคล้ายกับ "Mr" หรือ "Mrs" ในภาษาอังกฤษ แล้วตามด้วยชื่อจริงหลังคำนำหน้านี้ ซึ่งแตกต่างจากภาษาอังกฤษ ที่ใช้ชื่อสกุล ตัวอย่างเช่น เราจะพูดว่า "คุณจอห์น" แทน "คุณสมิธ" ทั้งนี้คำว่า "คุณ" ถือได้ว่าเป็นตัวเลือกที่ดีที่สุดสำหรับการใช้นำหน้าชื่อบุคคลที่เพิ่งพบกันครั้งแรก หรือ สถานการณ์ที่เป็นทางการไปจนถึงการเจรจาทางธุรกิจ

นอกจากนี้ยังมีคำสรรพนามอื่นๆ เช่น "พี่" และ "น้อง" ซึ่งทั้งสองคำนี้เหมาะกับสถานการณ์ที่ไม่เป็นทางการ โดยคำว่า "พี่" จะใช้เมื่อกล่าวถึงบุคคลที่มีอายุมากกว่าหรืออายุเท่ากัน ส่วนคำว่า "น้อง" จะใช้เมื่อต้องการกล่าวถึงคนที่อายุน้อยกว่า คำว่า "น้อง" และ "พี่" นั้นจะใช้นำหน้าชื่อจริง เช่น น้องพลอย หรือ พี่ฟ้า โดยทั่วไปนั้น "น้อง" หรือ "พี่" จะใช้กับเครือญาติ เพื่อนสนิท เพื่อนร่วมงาน และอาจรวมถึงพนักงานหรือบริการด้านการบริการต่าง ๆ จากที่กล่าวมานั้น หลักการใช้ก็จะเหมือนกับคำว่า "คุณ" นั่นเอง

และหากจะเอ่ยถึงบุคคลที่มีอายุรุ่นราวเดียวกันกับพ่อแม่ คุณอาจใช้คำว่า "คุณน้า" "คุณอา" หรือ "คุณลุง" "คุณป้า" ซึ่ง ขึ้นอยู่กับว่าผู้ที่กล่าวถึงมีอายุน้อยกว่าหรือมากกว่า และการที่ใช้คำนำหน้าว่า "คุณ" ทำให้มีความสุภาพมากขึ้น ทั้งหมดที่ได้กล่าวมาข้างต้นนั้น ไม่ว่าจะเป็น "คุณ" "พี่" และ "น้อง" ทั้งสามคำนี้ไม่ได้เจาะจงว่าขึ้นเพศใด ดังนั้น

เราสามารถใช้กล่าวถึงได้ทุกเพศ ทั้งชายและหญิง

ทั้งนี้ ยังมีคำที่ใช้เรียกเพื่อแสดงการให้เกียรติกันอีกหลายคำ แต่คำที่กล่าวมาข้างต้นนั้น เป็นคำที่เราพบเจอบ่อย ๆ

โดยผู้อ่านสามารถนำคำเหล่านี้ ไปปรับใช้ให้เหมาะสมกับสถานการณ์ต่าง ๆ ได้

ROYAL DINING FROM THE ROYAL CLIFF

After Songkran the restrictions placed on dining out went from curtailed opening hours to no alcohol service and then to home delivery and take away only. This caused many of us to come out of our usual eating comfort zones and take more notice of our meal times and what we planned to eat. The joy of being spoiled for choice in Pattaya can make one rather lazy. The sheer variety of restaurants of many different nationalities, cultures and price points means that it's all too easy to see how the mood takes you before deciding at the last minute where it is that you want to go for dinner,

Impromptu dining, that has been so easy to enjoy until recently, has left few of us with the inclination to cook and since the increased popularity of "Take Out" there are now many apps on our mobile phones bombarding us with offers and suggestions of just what to eat. Most of the offers are meal deals from the lower priced "junk food" end of the spectrum. However, if the easy options of burgers, noodles and fried chicken are boring you through sheer repetition then it may well be time to treat yourself to something special.

Special is what The Royal Cliff does extremely well as can be seen from their new Incredible Cuisine menu. It is special from the moment you place your order with every detail checked back to you and then the time you have selected for your delivery strictly adhered to. Available from their sublime hotel right to your door this service is available from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. with free delivery for all orders within 5km and over 300 baht.

You also know you're in for a treat when your meal comes perfectly presented and packed in paper carrier bags and beautiful white pristine card boxes. Its good to see that The Royal Cliff is minimising its use of plastic - which lest we forget we should all still be trying to do.

If with other home deliveries you've suffered from accompanying dips and sauces arriving spoiled and liquified from being packed too close to the hot food then rest assured this will not happen to your Incredible cuisine order. Everything is beautifully packed and perfectly presented.

The food is fresh and delicious and the prices are amazingly low! I honestly don't know how they do it for the money? However I am very glad they do. To give you a few highlights, the Caesar Salad, a mere 110 baht comprises a large portion of iceberg lettuce, with classic anchovy dressing, perfectly crispy bacon, poached egg, garlic croutons and parmesan cheese.

This could be a meal in itself but have it alongside the seared salmon fillet sauteed spinach, garlic mash and and white wine butter sauce (290 baht) and you're really cooking.

There are Indian, Thai and Japanese Set optionsand cakes....oh the cakes!

Perfect New York Cheesecake, (110 baht) Tangy Orange Chocolate and beautifully moist Red Velvet Cakes (90 baht)

Take a look at Royal Cliff's Incredible Cuisine Menu for yourself to be amazed at the variety and excellent value for money they afford. It's a real treat to brighten up these dark COVID days.

PARTY RICE WITH LAMB AND NUTS

An easy and satisfying dish when you have a party of friends and you wish to introduce an element of nourishing conviviality.

Ingredients for 4 servings

- 1 kilo of Lamb shoulder
- 2 medium onions
- 2 cloves of garlic
- 1 ½ cups of basmati rice
- 3 tablespoon of oil
- Salt Pepper
- 1 measuring cup of pine nuts
- 1 measuring cup of raisins

Preparation (45 mins - 1 hour)

- Cut the lamb into small pieces - chunks
- Chop the onions into small pieces
- Crush the garlic with the flat side of a knife
- Fry the onions in the oil in a saucepan
- Add the lamb and stir
- Add the salt, pepper and garlic

Keep covered with water so that the meat is totally submerged. Let it boil - simmer for a minimum of 45 minutes - 1 hour. Take a piece of the meat and taste it to see if it is cooked. Do not let the meat dry out as we shall need the juice. To cook the rice, wash it and set it aside. Now remove the water from the cooked meat and set that aside too (as you will have to measure it). For every cup of rice we need a little bit more than a cup of water as we have 1 ½ cups of rice and add 1 ¾ - 2 cups of the saved water. If, to do this, the water coming from the cooking of the meat is not sufficient you can add some water. Now put the rice in the pan and add the meat. Stir together and pour the water/juice (1 ¾ - 2 cups).

Bring to a boil and, after 10 minutes or so, turn down to simmer for some 20 minutes and keep covered with a lid at all times. The water will evaporate. Check from time to time that the cooking is progressing and that the rice is not burning - let it rest. At the same time fry the nuts until golden take them out and cook the raisins in the same oil and same pan. Serve the rice showing the meat on the top, spread the raisins and nuts on top and enjoy with salad or vegetable curry.

You might also wish to serve this dish on a tasty layer of filo pastry as shown in our photo for a really special dish.

The Coffee Detective Visits King of Coffee

Coffee with Milk or Coffee with Passion!

For some coffee is a daily necessity and for others it's a passion.

Location: *****

Joining Pattaya's developing coffee scene is King of Coffee. Its location is perfect at the start of Jomtien Beach Road opposite the Jomtien Beach sign. When there are no restrictions you can sit here and really watch the world go by and even enjoy a Jomtien Beach sunset.

Ambience: ***

Don't expect a smart café, King of Coffee is a custom-designed trailer sporting an impressive Ascaso espresso machine from Barcelona.

Quality of the coffee: *****

What really sets King of Coffee apart is their passion for coffee. They researched and visited a coffee grower in the Doi Chang region situated in the northern highlands of Chiang Rai province. They learnt directly from the farmer how to care for and roast his distinct variety of beans. What I have not mentioned, and it's what makes King of Coffee very special, is that they actually roast the coffee themselves, and the flavours are impressive.

Whilst you can enjoy all your regular types of coffee they are probably the only coffee shop in Pattaya (and possibly Thailand) that offers a Viennese Melange (one espresso shot served in a large coffee cup topped with steamed milk and milk foam, Julius Meinl). Not my preferred cup but will be very popular with the Austrians living here!

The espresso is superb, strong, medium dark roast, good acidity with a wonderful long finish. More coffee specialities are being added and they also offer a croissant for breakfast and some cakes to enjoy. A most welcome addition to the Pattaya/Jomtien coffee scene!

IS IT TIME FOR CANNABIS? GANJ COFFEE - DONGTAN BEACH

In December 2020, the Health Minister of Thailand allowed certain parts of the cannabis plant (ganja) to be legally sold for commercial purposes. Many coffee and tea shops, plus restaurants have been jumping on the bandwagon to infuse cannabis leaves for fun and pleasure in both food and beverages.

Many questions arise if it will produce psychoactive effects to the consumer. Cannabis Sativa, which is indigenous in East Asia including Thailand, is a medicinal plant. Significant research indicates that tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) is the only major psychoactive metabolite which mainly is produced from buds or blossoms.

Apart from flowers, buds or blossoms, the rest of Ganja has been used for centuries as important ingredients in Thai herbal medicine. There are many health benefits from using Ganja in food and beverages, including but not limited to: helping lower blood pressure, decreasing cholesterol, lower blood sugar, helping insomnia and much more.

Ganj Coffee – Dongtan Beach

Ganj Coffee is a new coffee shop recently opened on Dongtan Beach, Jomtien. Ganj is short from the word Ganja in Sanskrit which means cannabis in Hindi or Marijuana in Spanish. They call it Gancha in Thailand. In addition to a spectacular ocean view, especially at sunset, Ganj Coffee, offers beverages and food mixed with cannabis leaves and parts that are 100% legal and organic. It is produced from a Thai, legally licensed professional grower. There is no contamination or unwanted chemical that will harm the consumers.

At Ganj Coffee, cannabis products are not only offered for fun and pleasure. They emphasize on the health benefits. Hot and cold beverages including coffee, tea and Italian sodas are carefully prepared professionally, with and without ganja according to customer's requirements. There are different flavors of coffee which one can select. Some people love hot, while others prefer cold.

Cannabis Benefits

Ganja leaves are believed to increase calmness and reduce anxiety. Tea from ganja leaves will create a sense of healing, and iced ganja tea is known to refresh your mind. In the near future, Signature Pastry and daily made bread will be freshly baked complimenting drinks with and without ganja.

A word of caution to Consumers: when choosing cannabis products, purchase only 100% organic. Uncertified contaminated cannabis can be shipped to Thailand from other surrounding countries that have limited restrictions for growing. At Ganj Coffee no heavy metals or pesticides are included in their food and beverages.

"We believe in the beauty of Dongtan Beach. Customers can purchase great drinks and experience the unsurpassed environment of Pattaya. Relax, rest and appreciate the serenity of the ocean" said Patsan and Deborah, the owners of Ganja Coffee. They love animals, dogs are always welcome. They hope to see everyone soon at Ganj Coffee, plenty of parking is available day and night on the beach.

Pattaya International Hospital is Clean and Safe

Pattaya International Hospital can pride itself on a spotless reputation without any occurrences of post operative or secondary infection. This is in no small way due to the fact that for over 40 years the hospital has been made clean and safe by its use of Ozone.

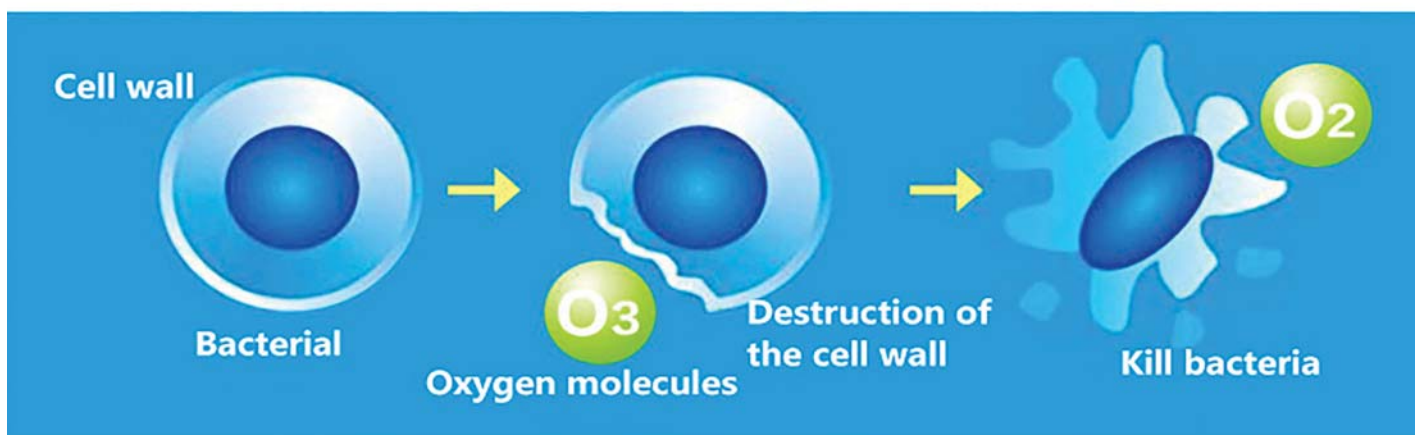

How does this work? Well we all know that oxygen is referred to as O₂ but O₃ is Ozone being made up of three oxygen molecules also known as “trioxygen”. By use of a generator with an electrical charge, O₂ oxygen molecules can be rearranged to form O₃. The third oxygen molecule found in Ozone is unstable and only shares a loose connection with the other two so can easily attach itself to viruses, bacteria, mold spores, and pollutants destroying them in the process. In this way Ozone has the ability to clean and deodorize indoor areas very quickly and efficiently.

The hospital uses it extensively throughout its operating theatres, wards, waiting rooms, stairways and corridors to disinfect and deodorize. However the process must be done very carefully as each area must be vacated for at least 10 minutes while the Ozone does its work. Otherwise it can cause discomfort to anyone in the vicinity with irritation to the eyes and nasal lining. Therefore, the hospital carries out this sanitation process systematically tackling area by area to keep all parts of the hospital clean, fresh, virus and germ free.

This is especially important at a time of COVID when people might be unsure about visiting hospitals for essential check ups, treatments and medical procedures. However at Pattaya International Hospital there is no cause for alarm - you are in safe hands - spotlessly clean!

INTERVIEW BY JULIA ROXAN

INSIDE THE MIND OF MOJOKO

Iran-born Steve Lawler was raised in Hong Kong, educated in Europe and has lived in Singapore since 2003. As Mojoko, he mixes Asian and Western influences with B-movie sensibility to produce art that pops and dazzles the eyes

As a Brit raised in Hong Kong, can you explain why the city has had a lasting influence on your art?

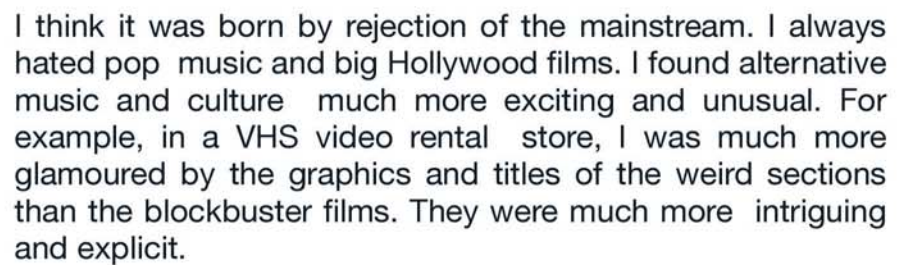

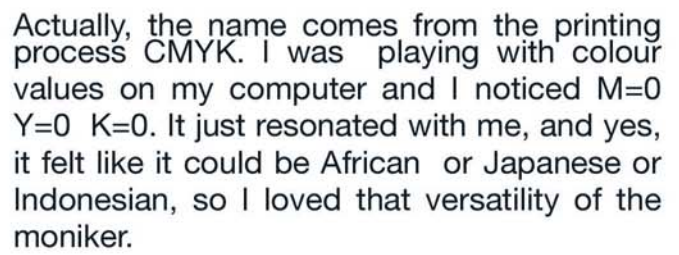

Hong Kong was an overload on the senses. The neon lights, the volume of people, the sights and smells were intense. The energy is infectious and the juxtaposition of Western and Asian culture was everywhere – Chinese movies with English subtitles, Rambo movie posters with Chinese typography. I found it fascinating and still do. There is definitely an air of nostalgia about it for me, but it was so futuristic and still feels like one of the most exciting cities in the world.

Do you still feel British, having lived in Asia for so long?

I think I have a British sense of humour, but I'm not particularly patriotic about the UK. I still look to it as a benchmark for creativity and quality content, but I do enjoy a global perspective on all things art, music and film.

Mojoko sounds funky and rather universal, like it could come from Japan, Indonesia or Nigeria. When did you adopt this artist name and where did it come from?

Everything I do has an element of collage. It's the interplay between two separate ideas which create a spark.

SPORTS UPDATE FOR JUNE

By Steve Wade.

The major event in June is undoubtedly the European Football Championships taking place at several venues throughout Europe. The opening matches kick off on the 11th with the final at Wembley on the same date in July. Originally scheduled for 2020 but postponed because of the pandemic, the tournament has an open look to it with around eight teams including England, France and the talented Belgian squad holding serious chances of winning. Starting only two days later is the Copa America, South America's own national championships that are being played in Argentina, again after being postponed from last year. There will be plenty of star players on show in both events and it promises to be a great summer of football.

At time of writing Phil Mickelson has just become the oldest man to ever win a major championship by capturing the USPGA at the difficult Kiawah Island course at age 50. The next "Major" on the tour is the US Open, starting on the 17th of June and being played at another monster of a course, Torrey Pines in San Diego, California. As in most other sports, the crowds are just beginning to return to golf and the atmosphere as Mickelson came down the 18th to win the USPGA was electric. The spectators add so much to the game.

The Formula 1 season is busy throughout the month with three events being staged. Having won the latest race in Monaco, Max Verstappen finds himself in the unusual situation of leading the driver standings by four points from Lewis Hamilton. Not only that but his team, Red Bull Racing Honda, lead Hamilton's Mercedes team by one point. How long this will last though is debatable but it's good to see some real competition again. The races in June start in Azerbaijan on the 4th, move on to France on the 18th and conclude the month in Austria which starts on the 25th.

The 28th of the month also sees the welcome return of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships, again after a postponement last year. Regardless of whether you are a tennis fan or not, it is good to see one of the great Summer sporting events return this year and with decent crowds too.

The last major event starting in June that we must mention is the Tour de France, which starts on the 26th and goes through until the 18th of July.

This gruelling event, which has millions of fans around the world, has its first stage over a distance of 187 kilometres through the beautiful but exhausting (for the riders), hills of Brest and Landerneau in Northwest France.

That's about it for June but Horseracing fans should look out for the Epsom Derby on Saturday the 5th.

Stay safe everyone and let's hope we can have a beer with our sport soon and support our local businesses.

A large photograph of golfer Thongchai Jaidee in the middle of a golf swing. He is wearing a yellow and orange polo shirt, white golf gloves, white sunglasses, and a white visor. The background is a blurred green golf course.

SPORTING HEROES: THONGCHAI JAIDEE

Thailand is currently producing an outstanding crop of golfers in both the men and women's game, highlighted by Ariya Jutanugarn's recent victory in the recent LPGA Thailand Classic played at the old course at Siam Country Club. The men's game also has some excellent players from Thailand who are either already established or coming through the ranks. Jazz Janewattananond and Kiradech Aphibarnrat are two well known names on the men's tour and many others are beginning to emerge.

Before most of the current crop were even born, the man blazing the trail for Thai golf was Thongchai Jaidee. Born in Lopburi, Thailand in 1969, Thongchai did not even start playing the game until age sixteen, which was considered far too late to make an impact on the professional ranks.

Even then he did not go straight into golf but joined the Royal Thai Army, where he was a paratrooper in special forces and did not actually turn professional until age thirty!

Considering his background, the amount of success that Thongchai achieved in golf is remarkable.

He won thirteen times on the Asian Tour and finished the order of merit winner in 2001, 2004 and 2009.

Even more remarkably he was an eight time winner on the European tour, starting in 2004 when the Malaysian Open became a co-sanctioned tournament between the two bodies.

This was the first time a Thai national had won a European event, and he went on to defend the title the following year.

His success was not limited to Asia though. After his first four European tour wins he travelled to Celtic manor in Wales and won the ISPS Handa Wales Open by one stroke.

In 2015 he won the European Open, played in Germany, by a stroke after shooting a 67 in the final round for victory.

His last and perhaps most impressive win on the tour was when in 2016, at the age of 46, he won the Open de France by four strokes.

Not only was he the oldest player to win the tournament since it's inception in 1972, he shot two 68's over the weekend and had a run of 39 holes without a bogey on that difficult course.

Thongchai, now 51 and qualified for the Champions Tour in the USA, is a great supporter of the future generations of golfers that are following his lead.

"I want to set an example for the next generation" he says.

"In the future I want the young Thai and Asian players to perform better than Thongchai Jaidee. I want them to see that I started from nothing but managed to get where I am today". Some of those young Thai players have indeed started to achieve outstanding results on the big stage, particularly in the women's game. It looks like the great example that was set by Thongchai Jaidee has inspired the future generations of players. Long may it continue.

'A True Life Love Story from Nahm'

Part 3 JOHN'S EARLY PROBLEMS

After taking a medical examination in 2018, the official diagnosis found John had Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS) and might not survive more than four years. I felt deeply sad and worried about why this happened to someone I loved. At that moment, we could only encourage each other and try to find every possible way of treatment, but it did not work in any way.

John's condition began to worsen, his arms and legs were weaker, difficulty eating, walking slower, feeling tired easily and also unable to do exercise. Until one day, while John was riding his bike, his arm suddenly became unsteady, causing an accident, so he had to stitch his head wound up to 10 stitches. After that situation, I tried to warn him not to ride a bike for safety reasons even though he wanted to do it as it was his favorite activity but he kept trying to follow the advice, which is not easy for him to accept. It was a heartbreaking time for us. I cried every day and every time he was sick. One thing that we could do was accept the truth and wonder why this happened to him; he just retired and did not take a rest yet. We promised that when we came back to Pattaya, we would travel around Thailand, but, everything changed.

Last year, John's condition deteriorated, unable to eat, rapid weight loss. The doctor advised him to do Gastrostomy Tube for feeding food and giving him medicine so that his condition seemed better. However, two months after, his condition was worse and the doctor advised him to put on a ventilator in ICU. I spent the most time in the hospital to look after and encourage him. I was very depressed, but I needed to be strong for him. I was so lucky to have family and supportive friends. Thanks to them so much.

However, his condition was still concerned but I felt reassured that he got great treatment from doctors. His condition was getting better. I was so happy, hoped it would be better and the doctor would allow him back home. While John was moved to the regular patient room to see his condition, John had to go back to ICU again. At that time, his condition was unstable and he had to go back to ICU several times. My hope of getting him home was less but never discourage. We believed that we had to keep fighting.

หลังจากที่เข้ารับการตรวจสุขภาพในปี 2561 ผลวินิจฉัยอย่างเป็นทางการพบว่า จอห์นเป็นโรคกล้ามเนื้ออ่อนแรง (ALS, Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis) และอาจจะมีชีวิตได้อีกไม่เกิน 4 ปี ฉันรู้สึกเสียใจและกังวลใจเป็นอย่างมากทำไมเหตุการณ์เช่นนี้ต้องเกิดกับคนที่ฉันรัก ช่วงเวลานั้นทำได้เพียงให้กำลังใจซึ่งกันและกัน พยายามเสาะหาทุกวิถีทางเพื่อรักษาโรคนี้ แต่ไม่ว่าวิธีใดก็ไม่เกิดผล

ต่อมาอาการของจอห์นเริ่มทรุดลง แขนและขาเริ่มไม่มีแรง รับประทานอาหารเองลำบาก เดินช้าลง มีอาการเหนื่อยง่ายขึ้น และไม่สามารถออกกำลังกายหนัก ๆ ได้ จนกระทั่งวันหนึ่ง ขณะที่จอห์นปั่นจักรยาน จู่ ๆ แขนก็ไม่มีแรงบังคับ ทำให้ประสบอุบัติเหตุและต้องเย็บแผลที่ศีรษะถึง 10 เข็ม หลังจากเหตุการณ์ในครั้งนั้น ฉันก็พยายามบอกเขาไม่ให้ออกไปปั่นจักรยานอีกเพราะว่าเป็นห่วงเรื่องความปลอดภัย ซึ่งเขาอยากออกไปปั่นจักรยานมากเพราะว่ามันเป็นกิจกรรมที่เขาชอบ แต่เขาก็ยังพยายามทำตามคำแนะนำ ซึ่งมันไม่ใช่เรื่องง่ายเลยที่จะทำให้ใจให้อยอมรับกับสิ่งที่เกิดขึ้น มันเป็นช่วงเวลาที่เราเจ็บปวดมากสำหรับเรา ฉันร้องไห้ทุกวันและทุกครั้งที่เราเห็นเขาไม่สบาย เราทำได้แค่ยอมรับความจริง และได้แต่คิดว่า ทำไมต้องเกิดเหตุการณ์แบบนี้ทั้งๆที่ จอห์นเพิ่งปลดเกษียณ ยังไม่ทันได้พักผ่อนเลย เราเคยสัญญากันว่า ถ้าได้กลับมาพัทยา เราสองคนจะขับรถเที่ยวไปเรื่อยๆ ในเมืองไทย แต่ทุกอย่างที่เกิดขึ้นกับตรงกันข้าม

หลังจากนั้น อีก 2 เดือน อาการของ จอห์น ก็แย่ลงอีก คุณหมอพบว่ามิสเฮอยู่เต็มหลอดลมและทำให้หายใจไม่สะดวก จนต้องใส่เครื่องช่วยหายใจ คุณหมอดัดสินใจให้เจาะคอ ซึ่งอาการก็ยังไม่มีท่าทีว่าจะดีขึ้น จึงต้องรักษาตัวอยู่ในห้องผู้ป่วยหนัก (ICU) ฉันใช้เวลาส่วนใหญ่อยู่ในโรงพยาบาลเพื่อดูแลและให้กำลังใจจอห์น ในช่วงนั้นฉันรู้สึกหดหู่มาก แต่คิดตลอดเวลาว่า เราต้องเข้มแข็งเพื่อเขา ฉันโชคดีมากที่มีครอบครัวและเพื่อนที่คอยให้กำลังใจกันอยู่ตลอด ขอขอบคุณจากใจจริง ๆ

อย่างไรก็ตามอาการของจอห์นยังคงน่าเป็นห่วง แต่อย่างไรก็ตามฉันก็รู้สึกอุ่นใจมากที่จอห์นได้รับการรักษาอย่างดีจากคุณหมอ อาการของเขาดูดีขึ้นเรื่อย ๆ ฉันดีใจมากและหวังอย่างยิ่งว่าอาการของเขาคงจะดีขึ้นอีก จนคุณหมออนุญาตให้กลับบ้านได้ ขณะที่จอห์นถูกย้ายไปห้องผู้ป่วยปกติเพื่อรอดูอาการนั้น อาการของจอห์นก็กลับมาทรุดหนักอีกรอบ เขาจึงต้องย้ายกลับไปรักษาในห้องผู้ป่วยหนักอีกครั้ง ช่วงเวลานั้น อาการของจอห์น ขึ้น ๆ ลง ๆ ถูกส่งตัวไปห้องผู้ป่วยหนักอยู่หลายรอบ ความหวังที่จะได้พาเขากลับบ้านนั้นน้อยลงเรื่อย ๆ ในตอนนั้น ฉันรู้สึกเศร้ามาก แต่ก็ไม่เคยคิดท้อ เราคิดเสมอว่าเราต้องสู้ต่อไปให้ถึงที่สุด

My 20th Anniversary at the Foundation

By Derek Franklin

I had only planned to be here for six months, but things don't always go as planned. Father Ray offered me a job, which I accepted without a second thought. Over the past two decades I have often been asked the same question by donors and sponsors who come to visit: why do I stay?

I stay so that I can help continue the work of Father Ray. He was a devout catholic priest, I'm not a religious man, I don't believe in any god or follow any religion, but I do believe in what we do here in Pattaya. I stay because I can do something for the children and students, the forgotten children.

I was up at the Father Ray Village one Saturday afternoon and I knew something was going on, that the kids were planning something. It was my twentieth anniversary of coming to volunteer and then work at the Foundation, but no one would tell me what was going on. I left them alone and spent an hour riding my bike around the Village complex.

Three little girls were sitting by me. One had been born in a prison in Japan, another given up when her father returned to Europe, a third girl remained when her father went back to Africa and the fourth is with us because her mother is an alcoholic and can't look after her. I was listening to their laughter, their screams of joy, and laughter, and I thought to myself, this is what it's all about, giving these children a happy life, one that they will remember in years to come.

I am sure that for some of the children here at the foundation not a day goes by when they don't think about their own family, think about why their own mother isn't taking care of them. When they get older they may ask why their parents abandoned them. They will think of the people who hurt them, who did bad to them, but I do hope they will also have happy memories of their time here and remember when they laughed.

We had a wonderful party that night and I watched a film where the children recreated my life. They pretended to serve afternoon tea, which I used to do in Harrods, there was a teenage boy dressed as a nurse, inflicting pain on his young patient. One girl was dressed as me, arriving in Pattaya twenty years ago, with a mop on her head; the children thought it hilarious that two decades ago I had long hair.

I watched as faces appeared on screen, young men and women who I have known most of their lives and who are now living their own lives, some with their own families. I listened to their wonderful messages, and at the same time as I was watching the screen, several young boys were staring at my face, waiting for tears to appear. They did.

The third wave of Covid-19 and the irreversible damage

Thailand was the first country to report a case outside of China and did an excellent job of containing the Covid virus throughout 2020. It was looking forward to reopening the Kingdom in 2021 for both long and short-term visitors alike. Unfortunately, the third wave of Covid is the most damaging that the people of Pattaya and Thailand have endured. The latest figures do not make good reading for the government or the people who rely on visitors who come in their millions every year to sustain the livelihoods of Thais working in the tourist sector. At the time of going to press, they announced 41 deaths in a single day.

The crucial thing will now be the authorities' response over the coming weeks and months. Even though the figures in Thailand bear no comparison to the vast numbers reported across other parts of the world, it will be the country's ability to handle their cases and the rollout of a vaccine that will be decisive.

The 14-day quarantine for new arrivals recently eased to 10 days has now been reinstated back to 14 days. Depending on arrival time on the first day at the ASQ, the departure date may result in 16 days in real terms. This measure alone virtually brings the curtain down on any thoughts of tourists planning a short-term visit to the Kingdom. It must be a cruel blow to the thousands of businesses who rely on these holidaymakers, of whom there were some 39 million in 2019.

What is vitally important is the ability of the health infrastructure of any given country to deal with the severe cases that the pandemic creates. Currently, the under-funded healthcare system in Thailand is holding up. However, any significant increase in numbers will soon put the facilities under pressure, with further criticism and government unrest.

The latest outbreak is primarily in Bangkok, with nearly half of all the latest cases found in the capital. Rumours abound whether other areas, such as Chonburi, have an easing of restrictions because there are fewer cases. What may help is that with the current travel restrictions, colour zoning, and sensible precautions taken, they will bring the virus under control. Whatever the circumstances, large-scale countrywide vaccination programmes are the long-term solution to the pandemic.

It will be a large scale undertaking considering the prospect of vaccinating the entire population. Thailand and the UK have approximately the same population count, but Thailand is over twice the land area of the UK. The land border is 4,863 km long with Myanmar, Cambodia, Laos and Malaysia. The 77 provinces within Thailand's borders each have their governor and own autonomous powers, which only adds to the logistical and political difficulties. The current timeline issued by the government says that the entire population will have at least their first vaccination by the end of the year, with the more vulnerable members of the community having their second jabs too. Hopefully, they will be able to stick to this tight timeline, and as more people get vaccinated during the rest of the year, the more optimistic people will become. Over 100 million doses of the approved vaccine have been ordered, and vaccinations are already underway. Let's hope they will complete the enormous logistical task quickly and successfully.

In Pattaya, there has been much speculation and growing concern about whether foreigners will have access to the vaccine. Multiple media outlets state that vaccines are only available to Thais, leading to Pattaya's inhabitants leaving Thailand; as the ex-pat exodus continues, more businesses close daily. A complete lack of international tourists has undoubtedly made the third wave of Covid the most damaging so far for Pattaya.

There certainly needs to be a concise, clear message to reassure foreigners will be vaccinated without leaving the country. Either through a national campaign or by the purchase of vaccines from the private hospital sector. There are mixed messages almost daily regarding jabs for foreigners, as dates and details remain sketchy. It will hopefully stop the rot and persuade the few remaining business owners to stay.

Already some smaller consumer investments have been put on hold due to all this uncertainty. However, larger, more critical projects are visible around Pattaya and appear to be actively forging ahead.

Thailand still has a considerable amount of goodwill as a destination worldwide and will recover from this pandemic. A recent poll in China named Thailand as their favourite destination by some distance from the rest of the world, and people are willing to come back regardless of how long they will have to wait.

A resurgence in both the hospitality and real estate sectors could be the springboard for recovery. An increase in longer-term investment from Hong Kong, for example, is also being put forward as changes in that region make the placing of money overseas more attractive.

Pattaya itself can look forward to a brighter future despite its current difficulties; it has too much to offer for it to be otherwise. Already the powers that be are promoting a fundamental change to the city, naming this transformation 'Neo Pattaya' is displayed on the entrance sign of Walking Street.

Hopefully, over time, it should lead to a new type of more family-friendly international and domestic tourist who, along with new residents, ex-pat communities and pensioners alike, will enjoy a revived Pattaya emerging from the ashes of the Covid pandemic.

PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards programme launches 16th edition as consumer sentiment remains cautiously optimistic

The 16th annual PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards, supported by gold sponsors Mitsubishi Electric and JLL Thailand, is now accepting nominations and entries for its 2021 edition, which will be presented at an exclusive gala event and awards ceremony on 21 October in Bangkok.

The latest edition of Thailand's most trusted and longest-running real estate awards programme comes as property seekers in the kingdom show resilience and cautious optimism amid shifts in consumer sentiment during the pandemic.

Around 69 percent of property seekers in Thailand are still looking to purchase a property in the future, with about half of this number expressing an intent to purchase within the next two years, according to the Consumer Sentiment Study H1 2021 conducted by DDProperty.com, Thailand's leading property site and the official property portal of the PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards.

Despite the impact of the pandemic, only 56 percent of Thais were impacted in terms of property transactions, a lower figure than the second half of 2020. Also appealing to majority of consumers are the various purchasing packages, schemes, discounts, and cashbacks being offered by developers during the pandemic.

This era is marked by an increased usage of property portals by consumers in their 40s even as younger property seekers gather information from colleagues, friends and family, the study further found.

The PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards programme is expected to help guide property seekers make more informed choices in quality real estate this year based on the shortlist of nominees as determined by an independent panel of experts led by JLL Thailand chairperson Suphin Mechuchep.

Jules Kay, managing director of PropertyGuru Asia Property Awards and Events, said: "Over the last 16 years, the PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards programme has recognised a long list of exemplary developments, making the search for quality real estate a less arduous task. Supported by the intelligent insights and differentiated technology provided by DDProperty.com, Thailand's no. 1 property marketplace, the Awards help Thai and international property seekers and investors make more informed decisions, which is especially important as we navigate these challenging times."

The awards programme will showcase the Winners and Highly Commended developers and projects on Thursday, 21 October 2021 during an exclusive gala dinner at The Athenee Hotel, a Luxury Collection Hotel, Bangkok. The highly anticipated ceremony will be staged according to updated health and hygiene protocols in the Thai capital.

Reaching a wider audience including consumers, investors and real estate agents nationwide and across the region, the 16th PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards night will premiere simultaneously on AsiaPropertyAwards.com/tv-podcast and the official channels on Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter and YouTube.

Highlights of the event will air on the History Channel, the official cable TV partner of the PropertyGuru Asia Property Awards.

Key dates for the 2021 edition:

- 1 January 2021 – Entries Open
- 20 August 2021 – Entries Close
- 30 August-24 September 2021 – Site Inspections
- 29-30 September 2021 – Final Judging
- 21 October 2021 – Gala Dinner and Awards Ceremony in Bangkok, Thailand
- 9 December 2021 – Regional Grand Final Gala Event in Bangkok, Thailand

Nominations from the public and official entries from eligible companies and projects are currently being accepted here: AsiaPropertyAwards.com/nominations

Nominees and entrants will undergo a fair, transparent, ethical judging process, under the helm of HLB Thailand as the official supervisor of the PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards. Paul Ashburn, partner at HLB Thailand and ASPAC Leader at HLB Real Estate Group, leads the third-party team of supervisors.

Country winners from Thailand will have a chance to claim the “Best in Asia” honours as they advance to the 16th PropertyGuru Asia Property Awards Grand Final, which will also be hosted in Bangkok on 9 December. The hybrid physical and virtual edition of the PropertyGuru Asia Real Estate Summit, the tech and thought leadership platform of PropertyGuru Group, will take place in the same week.

Thailand developers are among the most awarded at the Grand Final. In 2020, developers L.P.N. Development PCL., Habitat Group, Kasemsirsiri Co., Ltd., and Idea Development received five regional wins. The year 2020 also marked the introduction of the PropertyGuru Asia Property Awards online gala series, which included the first virtual gala edition of the PropertyGuru Asia Property Awards Grand Final. The online gala series was viewed more than 516,000 times and reached viewers and property investors in more than 75 countries worldwide.

Organised by Southeast Asia’s leading property technology company, PropertyGuru Group, the 16th Annual PropertyGuru Thailand Property Awards programme is supported by gold sponsors Mitsubishi Electric and JLL Thailand; official portal partner DDProperty.com; official cable TV partner History Channel; official magazine PropertyGuru Property Report; local partner GFour Wines & Spirits; official PR partner Infinity Communications; media partners HOT Magazine, Locanation, Luxury Society Asia, and REM Thailand; official charity partner Right To Play; official ESG partner Baan Dek Foundation; supporting association Green Building Consulting & Engineering; and official supervisor HLB Thailand.

INTERIOR UPDATE: POPULAR DECORATING STYLES SO FAR IN 2021

By Georgina Hull

ECLECTIC

During these COVID months, trends have mostly been determined by online searches. For example, so far in 2021 those related to interior decorating have skyrocketed especially with worldwide searches for wallpaper and style ideas.

Keen to find out which interior styles were most of interest this year, Pinterest carried out a survey to see which interior design trends people are taking most inspiration from.

The results are as follows...

ECLECTIC

The most pinned design trend on Pinterest is eclectic. The trend has a whopping 550,668 pins over 997 different boards on Pinterest. The eclectic style is characterised by mixing patterns, styles and colours to create a unique but cohesive design.

MID-CENTURY MODERN

In second place is mid-century modern décor, with 534,651 pins over 998 boards. This style first became popular in the 1940s, but has clearly remained a favourite ever since.

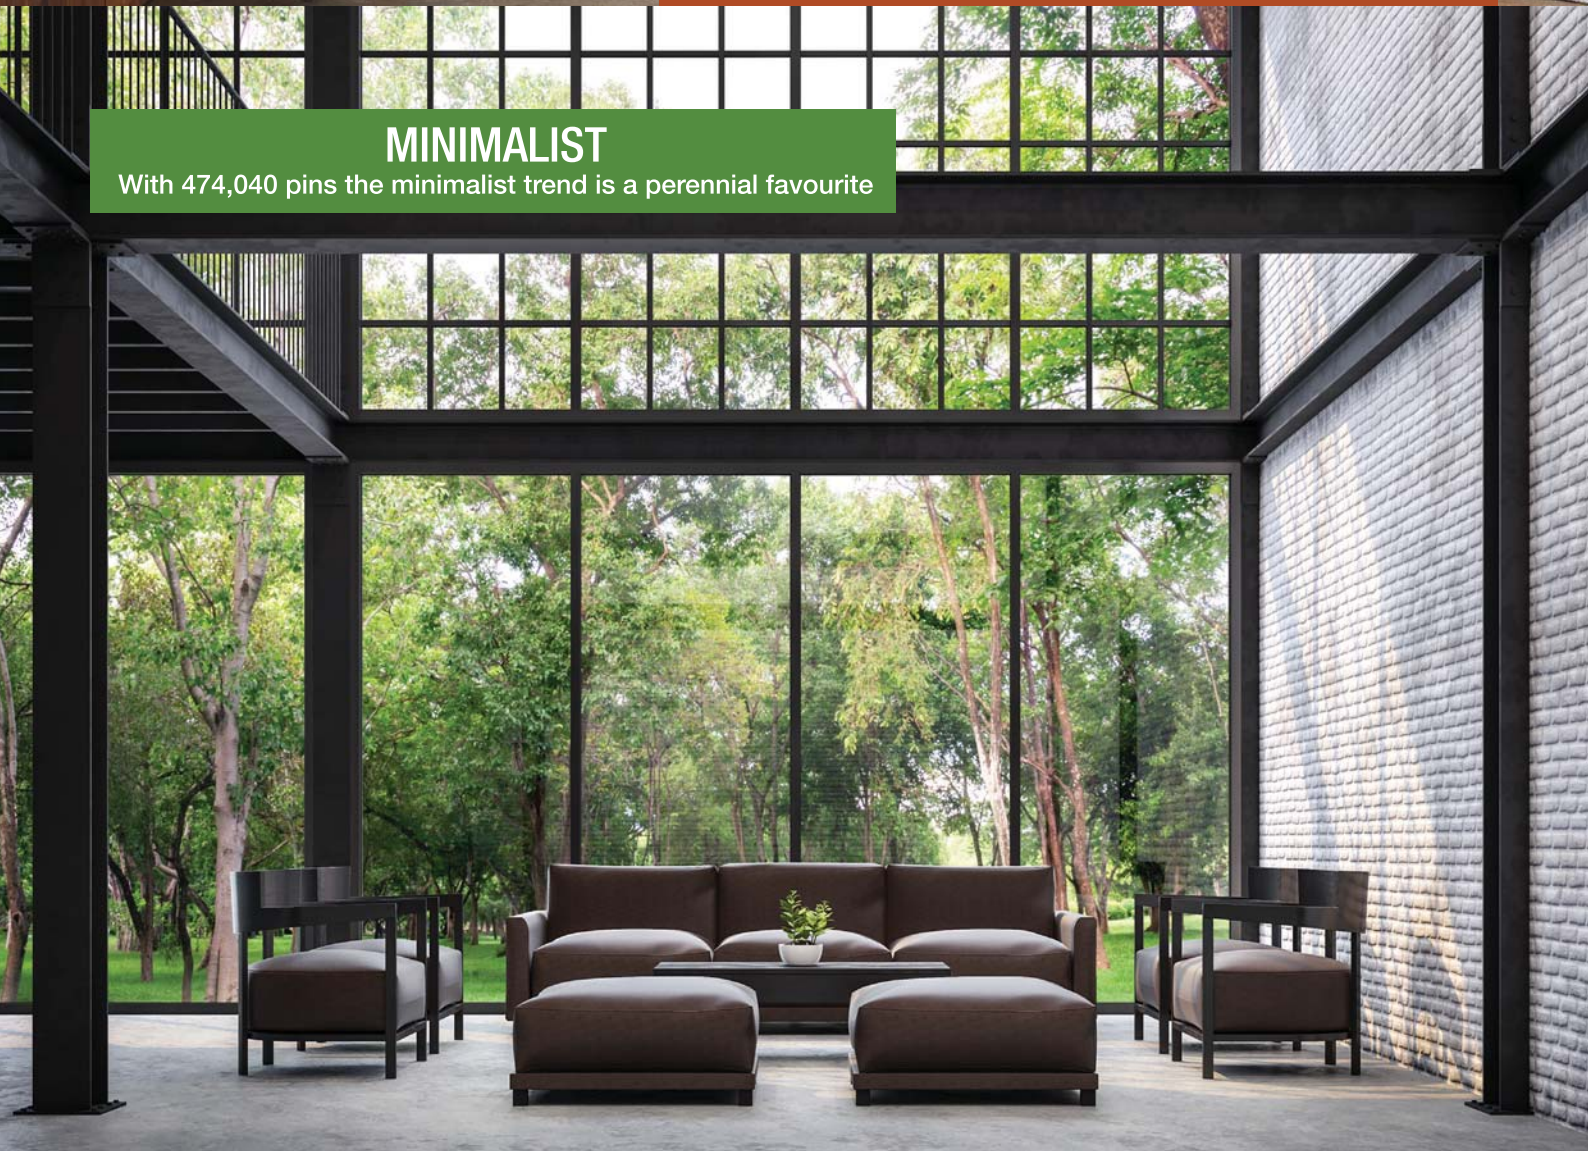

It features architecture and furniture from the middle of the 20th century, such as leather chairs and bright colours.

BOHEMIAN

The third is bohemian, known for its lack of structure and relaxed style. The trend has a total of 522,231 pins across 997 boards.

MINIMALIST

With 474,040 pins the minimalist trend is a perennial favourite

10 GARDENING HACKS

The following hacks are very useful whether you have a large garden or are just cultivating a few plants on your balcony. What's more, they utilise many leftover items, making them green in more than just one way.

Use your eggshells

Instead of throwing eggshells away, you can make good use of them in your garden. Rinse them out, allow them to dry, then crush or powder them. They can then be used as fertilizer and pest deterrent, as the plants absorb the calcium from the eggshells and grow mostly problem-free.

Use Cinnamon

Cinnamon has some anti-fungal qualities, and it smells great as a bonus. Use it to prevent and stop diseases on seedlings.

Use Herbs to deter Mosquitoes

Citronella, Basil, Lavender, Mint, Sage, and Rosemary are all said to help deter the flying foes that are mosquitoes.

Use your fruit rinds

Cut your citrus fruit in half and remove the inside of the fruit. Cut four pieces of yarn for each half piece of fruit. Then tie a knot at the end and thread your needle on four sides of the peel. Make sure the bird feeder is properly balanced when it's hanging and tie all four of the strings together in a knot. Hang your bird feeder and pour in your birdseed.

Use Coffee Grounds

You can use your leftover coffee grounds to keep pests like ants, snails, and slugs away.

Use Leftover Sponges

You can also save old sponges to use as a layer at the bottom of terracotta pots. They prevent root rot by allowing for additional air and absorb extra water that might otherwise run out of the bottom of the pot. Otherwise, you can.

Block soil seepage by lining the bottom of pots with a paper coffee filter. The water will still easily drain, but it won't take the dirt with it.

Use Old Cloves of Garlic

If you find some of your garlic cloves have sprouted whilst in your pantry you can put them in water. Within three to five days they will nurture and continue to grow into new sprouts which are deliciously edible, rather like green spring onions.

A Ladder Plant Stand can give you more space

If you have limited space in your garden get a ladder plant stand to put your plants on and create more space. It can be a good addition to a balcony.

Use Leftover Christmas decorations

This hack is all about training birds to not go after your red fruits and vegetables. Place a bright red ornament such as a Christmas bauble by your strawberries or tomatoes for example.

You will then fool the birds as they will try to peck at the ornament leaving your fruit alone.

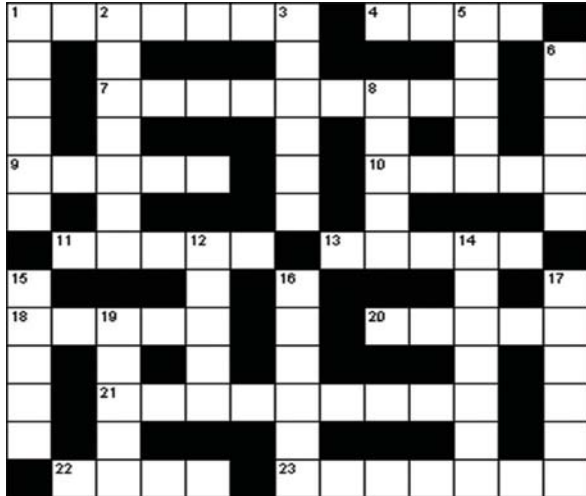

Use Leftover Milk Carton or Water Bottle

Use an empty plastic milk carton or water bottle to make a useful watering can. Clean and wash out your old milk, orange juice, water bottle. Remove the cap, and carefully poke several holes in the cap.

Fill your jug with water, then screw the cap back on. Now you've got a simple DIY Garden Watering Can...

Ratchet & Clank: Rift Apart

Taking place after the Ratchet and Clank: Into the Nexus the duo faces off once again against Dr. Nefarious who now controls a new weapon called the Dimensionator, which allows travel to other dimensions.

The third-person gameplay is more or less the same, with plenty of unique guns and gear collecting, but what's new is real-time instant travel to different worlds, planets, or areas of the map. To do this Ratchet uses a Rift Tether to pull himself into portals.

Ratchet and Clank first appeared way back in 2002 on the PlayStation 2 and the developers Insomniac games have released better versions on every new PlayStation. Now it's the turn for the PS5 to show off.

Final Fantasy 7 Remake Intergrade

Chapter 2 of the Final Fantasy VII remake is out. Only one more remains to bring the original up to date, only another two years to go!

Intergrade features Yuffie as the main character for comic relief, but in combat, she's not to be trifled with. Being a Wutai elite ninja she uses a massive throwing star along with elemental Ninjutsu magic that adds elements of fire, ice, wind, or lightning to the weapon. New story content shows Yuffie infiltrating Avalanche HQ to steal some ultimate materia.

4k 60fps, a host of graphical enhancements along with full voice acting, and even a photo mode. With the first part receiving positive reviews, I believe the project is in good hands.

Evergate

Starting as a Kick starter project this charming 2D puzzle platforming adventure is looking good

Your character a childlike soul named Ki uses light beams to solve puzzles and get through levels of the afterlife. Her Soul flame releases power trapped inside the special crystals you find. There a variety of these each with its powers to teleport or propel you along. This combined with usual platforming creates some interesting levels.

It may be old school 2D but there is some high-quality artwork on display a stunning hand drawn vision of the afterlife. Along with an original score performed by a live orchestra, this all creates a stylish and cerebral experience.

Every month new gadgets arrive on the scene to hopefully make your life easier, more productive or just more fun. As an old friend of mine once said buying a new TV can be good for the soul. This month lets look at some practical tec to improve the quality of your life.

Smart Nora Snoring Solution

A snoring partner can make it difficult for you to fall asleep or they can wake you from your rest. As the company motto says 'if you sleep with a snorer, you are going to love the Smart Nora!' This little device slips under your pillow and detects when you're snoring it then expands to adjust your head position before you wake your partner. Its gentle motion helps stimulate the throat muscles which allows natural breathing to resume. It may take a few nights to get used to the subtle motion but your partner will be grateful if you persevere.

No more uncomfortable mouth guards, straps or nose strips this little guy fits under your favorite pillow. Head on over to smarnora.com to check it out.

Dyson Pure Humidify + Cool

Improving the air quality in your bedroom can also help you get a better night's sleep and the purified air will also nourish your body. If you suffer from allergies then this gadget can help clean out any allergens or pathogens it finds. It humidifies the air with just the right amount of moisture for your nasal passages, skin, and airway. Yes, it's multi-functional and also cools you down whilst detecting and removing any harmful gases.

Cleaning it is a breeze as it runs its deep clean cycle at the touch of a button, it has an alert light that comes on when it's time to do this. Also, it will alert you when it's time to change the filters.

App of the month: White Noise Free Amicoolsoft

Noise at night time can be very stressful, especially if you need to get up early for work the next day. Noisy neighbors or bars playing loud music, traffic, and of course dog barking can make life miserable, but here's an app that might help you out. I find that it's the sudden spikes of volume that wake me up, so by drowning these out with a blanket of White noise I can fall asleep.

If you search for white noise on the app store or play store you will find many of these that are free to try. I like the free one by Amicool which has a variety of settings, some based on rain, the sea, rivers, and animal sounds. It has a timer so you can get it to switch off whilst you slumber.
